

11 American Communists Convicted Of Conspiracy

Verdict Follows 9-Month Trial; 5 Defense Lawyers Are Jailed For Contempt

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—A federal jury convicted 11 top-ranking American Communist leaders today of conspiring to teach overthrow of the U. S. government by force. The 11 defendants, all members of the Communist national board, were remanded to jail to await sentencing next Friday at 10:30 a. m. They face sentences up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 fine each.

Eight of the defendants had been free on $5,000 bail. Immediately afterward, Federal Judge Harold R. Medina found five of their lawyers guilty of criminal contempt during the nine-month trial and sent them to jail for terms varying from 30 days to six months.

Deliberated Seven Hours

Eugene Dennis, a defendant who acted as his own lawyer, also drew a six-month contempt sentence.

Thus ended, after seven hours of jury deliberation that began yesterday afternoon, a strife-ridden trial unprecedented in American history.

It was hinted during the trial that conviction of the leaders, who are certain to appeal to the U. S. Supreme court, might drive the Communist party underground in this country.

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the party, faces trial later on the same charge. He was indicted with the 11 others but was granted a postponement because of a heart condition.

A dead, shocked silence greeted the verdict. There was no demonstration. The defendants and their lawyers leaned forward eagerly, then sat back, impassive, when the word "guilty" was pronounced.

Jury Is Pollled

Defense Attorney Harry Sacher demanded and got a poll of the jury for the verdict against each defendant.

The walnut-paneled Federal courtroom, scene of many a jangling-outburst since the trial began last January 17, was crowded and tense when the eight women and four men on the jury filed in at 11:28 a. m. (EST).

Speaking firmly, the foreman—Mrs. Thelma Dial, a negro—announced: "We find each and every one of the defendants guilty."

Besides Dennis the defendants in the trial were: Jacob Stachel, 48, director of the propaganda and education division; Gilbert Green, 43, Illinois chairman; John Gates, 36, editor of the Daily Worker; Benjamin Davis, Jr., 46, New York city councilman; Gus Hall, 39, Ohio chairman; Irving Potash, 46, CIO Fur Workers Union official; Robert Thompson, 34, New York state chairman; John Williamson, 45, labor secretary; Henry Winston, 38, organizational secretary; Carl Winter, 43, Michigan chairman. Dennis is 44 years of age.

Gates, Hall, Thompson and Winston all served with the U. S. armed forces during the war. Stachel, Potash and Williamson are foreign-born.

See Wide Effects

The eight women and four men returned to the Federal courthouse at 9:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, after an overnight recess, and resumed deliberations a few minutes later.

Their decision in the case of 11 top Communist leaders may determine the future of the American Communist party.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina entered the courtroom at 10:09 a. m. and court was declared in session. The defendants, all members of the Communist party's national board, returned to the courtroom one by one.

Cheered Last Night

Eight of the defendants went home for the night to the cheers and applause of their sympathizers, about 100 of whom kept a vigil outside the Federal court building. The other three defendants still are in jail during out-of-court hours for contempt.

Ficketing has been an off-and-on feature of the historic trial since it began in Federal Judge Harold R. Medina's courtroom last January 17.

The conspiracy case went to the jury at 3:53 p. m. yesterday after 36 weeks of trial. It perhaps was the longest Federal criminal trial in American history.

Jury Is Warned

Judge Medina warned the jury that the trial was not intended as a witch hunt or book-burning foray. It was a trial of 11 men accused of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government, he said.

"Do not be led astray by talk about thought control or putting books on trial," Medina said in a two hour and 15 minute charge to the jury. "No such issues are before you here. And you are not to pass on the merits of Communism, Capitalism or any other isms."

'Spook' Parade Committees Named; Will Seek Donations

Gettysburg's annual Halloween parade will be held Monday, October 31, starting at 7:30 p. m. That decision was reached by representatives of a number of local organizations meeting Thursday evening at the Recreation center in the First National bank building.

G. Henry Roth was re-elected chairman of the Halloween committee and Mrs. C. T. Ziegler was named secretary.

Paul Ecker was named as chairman and G. Noel Flynn, Stanley Sprankle and Clifford Harmon as members of a committee to contact bands in this area to seek their participation in the yearly procession. Prizes of $25 first, $20 second, $15 third and $10 fourth were approved for the bands.

John E. Berger, Frederick Block, Mrs. Wilbur Baker, Thomas Bulleit and Paul Anzengruber were named as a committee to secure judges for the parade. Clifford Harmon was named to ask the fire company for the services of 40 firemen in uniform to help in handling the parade and to ask the fire chiefs to act as marshals for the procession.

Paul Whitmoyer was selected to ask the school officials for permission to use the athletic field and lights at Gettysburg high school for the conclusion of the parade, and distribution of prizes, as was done last year.

Provided permission to use the athletic field is given, the parade will begin at the Meade school, march east on Chambersburg street to the square, and then south on (Please Turn to Page 8)

Missing

A nine-state alarm has been broadcast by police seeking the whereabouts of pretty Mrs. Grace Matterson Mahon (below), 16, who has been missing since she left her mother's home in New London, Conn., Oct. 8, to travel by bus to her Milwaukee, Wis., home.

Eight Receive Watches And 4 Given Gold Pens For Years Of Service At Furniture Plants; Rev. G. H. Berkheimer Speaks

"You can't get along without your employer and he can't get along without you. Yours is a fine relationship of dependence upon each other."

The above statement was made by Rev. George H. Berkheimer, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Ardenstville, in an address Thursday evening at the third annual dinner for members of the 25 and 20 year service clubs, employees who have been with the three local furniture firms 20 or more years. The dinner was served at Graeffenburg Inn.

"The sooner we appreciate that we are as one family the better off we will be," Rev. Mr. Berkheimer continued. "We are free and we have liberty. Yet we cry out for more freedom and then we surrender our freedoms to the government for what we choose to call security."

What Is Security?

"Security from want perhaps. What kind of security is that? What would our forefathers have thought and accomplished if when they came to this country they had security from want. If we did not have want we would not achieve our great accomplishments. There would be no desire to progress."

"Similarly the steel strike is called to press for pensions, pensions to be paid by management. This is a sense of false security. Management cannot be asked to pay pensions. This should be on a contributory basis. Labor should assume its full share. The laboring man is entitled to some sense of security but don't forget that we all have a share in that responsibility. It is not management alone."

Opposes Planned Economy

"The government installs what it proposes to call planned economy. It restricts and limits the amount of grain to be grown, the number of pigs and cattle to be raised in order to keep prices up, as it asserts. Once it installs that system it goes on to other things, to secure more power. Then government very reluctantly relinquishes any of its power. There can be no planned economy for some without upsetting the planned economy of many, many others. It is contrary to the laws of nature and of God. God even up those things of the soil, grain, pigs and cattle. Not man."

"The full sense of security is attained through our own efforts. The proposed soldiers' bonus, if we accept it, is like selling our dignity to the government. Only by meeting adversity and rising above difficulties can we grow strong and preserve our dignity and the worth of our souls."

"Life's Commands"

"All of us who have reached mature years have run into some of life's commands. We have discovered that there are certain things about living that are unchangeably true. Life neither coaxes nor attempts to persuade. It commands. We disobey these commands at our own peril. Life keeps suggesting that down at the bottom of things there is an indicative. You remember what that is from your study of grammar. It is (Please Turn to Page 2)

MUST REGISTER TO MAKE TOUR

Those planning to join the free tour to Letterkenny Tuesday are to register on the bulletin board at the YWCA, Center square, Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Jr., announced today.

Mrs. McPherson, chairman of the Adams County Women's committee for Pennsylvania Week, has announced that the bus will leave Center square here at 9 a. m. on Tuesday for Letterkenny Ordnance depot. There the women will go on a tour of the huge army storage center. The only cost will be for a lunch at the Letterkenny cafeteria. The group will return about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Those wishing to make the trip can sign the paper at the YWCA up to 6 p. m. Monday.

70 Army Officers Tour Battlefield

Seventy officers from the Army Information School at Carlisle barracks visited the battlefield Thursday as part of their course of study. Dr. Frederick Tilberg, historian for the local national park office, outlined details of the battle on the relief map in the National park headquarters in the post office, and then conducted the officers on a tour of the battlefield.

Twelve employees of the Gettysburg Furniture company, Reaser Furniture company and the Gettysburg Panel company became members of the 20 and 25 year clubs at a testimonial dinner Thursday evening at Graeffenburg Inn. They, with 77 other veteran employees, were guests of M. C. Jones, general manager, who also presided as toastmaster.

It was the third annual dinner given to these men and women who have been in the employ of the companies for 20 years or more as a recognition of their distinguished service record.

Following his usual custom Mr. Jones presented the new members of the 25 year club with gold, engraved wrist watches and gold, engraved pens were given to members of the 20 year club.

The four new quarter century club members are: Miss Dorothy E. Foth, Chester S. Perry, John R. Aughinbaugh and John A. Mauss.

The new 20 year club members are: Lloyd W. Ecker, Joseph A. Hess, Dorsey H. Schultz, Mervin P. Slaybaugh, Amos W. Stary, Harry C. Sterner, Russell H. Koonitz and William H. Plank.

Called "Loyal Associates"

Mr. Jones congratulated the new club members and expressed his personal thanks for their "loyalty and splendid cooperation as associates in the firms throughout the years."

He said "We have had many ups and downs during the 40 odd years these companies have been in business. We have had some good years and we have had some very poor years, years when we encountered rough sledding. It was only through your loyalty, your unswerving cooperation and your confidence in these companies that we survived. We were able to meet and surmount adverse conditions, mainly because of employees like you."

"We came through those lean years and continued to grow and progress. We expanded and we improved our product. We branched out into dining room suites, bedroom suites and tables and we now ship from coast to coast and from the Canadian line to the Gulf. We are making good, clean style furniture and we are proud of our product."

Faithful Service

"Sometimes we have had too much business and sometimes we have had too much furniture. Through your cooperation and loyalty and your faithfulness we came through and we will continue for many, many years."

Mr. Jones said that the companies lost one 25 year club member through death last month. He referred to the late Charles M. Sanders, who had been with the companies for 36 years.

Other members of the 25 year club are:

Harold A. Strickhouser	42 years
Jesse Scott	41 years
William J. Murray	41 years
George E. Stover	40 years
Mervin E. Crouse	40 years

60 BIRTHS IN AREA IN SEPT.

Sixty births and 15 deaths occurred in the Gettysburg district during September. Ralph C. Geiselman, local registrar of vital statistics, revealed today.

Twenty-nine male and 30 female births were in Gettysburg and one male birth was recorded in Cumberland township. Ten male and four female deaths occurred in Gettysburg and one female death was listed in Freedom township. There were no deaths or births recorded from Straban and Highland townships.

The September total brings to 572 the number of births and 137 the number of deaths in the Gettysburg district so far this year. That number compares with 536 births and 160 deaths for the same nine months last year. In September, 1948, there were 72 births and 15 deaths.

Bank To Display Variety Of Banks

On display in the lobby of the Biglerville National bank next week in observance of Pennsylvania Week will be a valuable and unusual collection of savings banks. Included in the exhibit will be piggy banks, mechanical banks and others. R. L. Walter, of Aspers, is arranging the display. Some antique furniture will be on display.

APPEAL BOARD DUTIES OCCUPY COMMISSIONERS

The Adams county commissioners, sitting as an appeal board from the findings of assessors, on Thursday heard seven cases brought before them by residents of Bendersville.

Twenty-four cases in all are scheduled for hearing, with 15 listed for the next two weeks. A hearing in the appeal of the Keystone Ceramic company from its assessment, scheduled for Thursday, was postponed until November 2 to permit the company to secure additional information for presentation before the commissioners.

Six cases, those of Theodore Beamer, Yvonne Black, Ward Taylor, Ida Taylor, Melvin Beam and Robert Orner, all of Bendersville, concerned real estate. All claimed that their assessments were increased out of proportion to the assessment of similar properties in the borough. Chester Ogden, former assessor for Bendersville, who made the changes, appeared to testify in connection with the cases. Some of the assessments were kept at the levels set by the assessor and some lowered. The total amount by which the assessments were lowered was $320 with the amount of reduction varying from property to property.

P. S. Peters, 79-year-old former painter, appeared to protest the continuation of his assessment as a skilled mechanic, pointing out that he is no longer able to work full time as before. His occupation assessment was dropped by $20.

The commissioners signed a request for county aid from Fairfield borough: The papers in the request for $182.23, to be used for repairs to several alleys and South street, Fairfield, were forwarded to the state department of highways. The petition was signed by H. L. Harbaugh as burgess and J. Sherman Sites as president of council for Fairfield.

Seminary Students Will Do Field Work

Thirty-nine students at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, all but one member of the junior class, have been given field work assignments with churches from Baltimore to Harrisburg and York to Waynesboro.

Three will serve in Adams county churches. Neil Jensen, of Norge, Va., has been chosen to serve at the Ardenstville Lutheran church; William Thorsen, of Chicago, Ill., at St. James Lutheran church here and Edwin Wentz, of Biglerville, will serve the Biglerville church.

13 BUSES TO CARRY PUPILS ON TOUR HERE

Thirteen buses, all donated, will carry several hundred school children on their tour of the Gettysburg battlefield Monday, October 17, in connection with the observance of Pennsylvania Week and "Know Your Pennsylvania."

The buses will come to Gettysburg and leave the post office at 12:30 p. m. Monday, returning about 2:45 p. m. In the event of rain, the tour will be made the following day. Pictures of the group will be taken at the Eternal Light Peace Memorial. About 500 children are expected to take part in the tour.

Buses which will take children on the tour are as follows:

Gettysburg, eighth grade of Lincoln school, three buses supplied by Dave Oyler of Dave Oyler Motors.

York Springs, one bus for the ninth grade, supplied by the Wolfe Bus Lines of York Springs.

East Berlin, one bus for the seventh grade, supplied by the Wolfe Bus Lines of York Springs.

Other Assignments

Littlestown, two buses for the eighth grade, supplied by Walter Shoemaker, Littlestown.

New Oxford, one bus for fifth and sixth grade pupils, supplied by Eugene Griest.

Fairfield, one bus for eighth grade pupils, supplied by C. L. Sheads, Fairfield garage.

Gettysburg, one bus for St. Francis Xavier parochial school, supplied by Donald C. Walter.

Biglerville, two district buses to be driven by Harry Lerew and another driver.

McSherrystown, one bus of the Lincoln Bus company, for the eighth grade pupils of Annunciation parochial school, transportation expenses to be paid by the Farmers' Bank of McSherrystown, as its part in the Pennsylvania Week observance, Miss Irene Miller is chairman for the sponsors.

Unbeaten Bullets Host To Powerful Lehigh Eleven Here Saturday Afternoon

An underdog Gettysburg college football squad is prepared to "shoot the works" when it tangles with the highly rated Lehigh university grid-ers on Memorial Field here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock before what is expected to be the largest crowd of the home season.

Dopesters have been almost unanimous in selecting the Engineers to knock the Bullets from the ranks of the unbeaten and halt their three-game winning streak.

Lehigh comes here with what is regarded as the best team in the past 10 years representing the Bethlehem school. A horde of veterans have been bolstered with sophomores from the crack Engineer freshman team of a year ago.

Once again the Bullets will be outweighed by a considerable margin, Lehigh's starting line averaging well over 200 pounds per man. Outstanding on the line is Bob Numbers, 200-center, regarded by many as the best center in the state.

In Dick Gabriel, who has tallied eight touchdowns this season, the Engineers have the top Eastern Collegiate Football association ground gainer of 1948.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

A careless and irresponsible motorist gave a first class demonstration of reckless driving the other noon for the benefit of a score or more witnesses. Roaring out Chambersburg street a few minutes after noon this driver approached the Chambersburg street, Springs and Buford avenue intersection with a red light against him. He drove into the right lane and then swung, at excessive speed, into Buford avenue. Fortunately most of the school children had crossed the street and a few stragglers were detained by adults who anticipated what the onrushing motorist was going to do.

The new traffic lights at the Chambersburg street-Washington street intersection afford little protection for pedestrians crossing Chambersburg street. The green light regulating traffic on Chambersburg street remains burning for 30 seconds. The green light for traffic on Washington street burns for only 15 seconds. This is insufficient time for pedestrians, especially children, to cross Chambersburg street. Most of the time they have to run to make it and at the same time dodge cars turning into Chambersburg street from Washington street.

The West Middle-South Washington streets intersection remains a dangerous spot. There are no traffic signals there.

Rev. Willis R. Doyle, pastor of the Prince of Peace Episcopal church, writes: "Your account of wild life in Gettysburg was interesting but incomplete. In addition to a pet squirrel we fed most of the summer (it has evidently found a better boarding house because it has left us). I was startled to meet an opossum in the alley back of the fire house as I was taking a shortcut to early church. It was the more remarkable, being less than two blocks from the square."

BENDERSVILLE SEEKS SERIOUS WATER LEAKAGE

Bendersville's borough water commission today asked residents of the town to "go easy" on their use of water until the commission can discover where some 60,000 gallons is disappearing each day.

Ward Taylor, of the water authority, said today that the town is in a "bad situation" in regards to water supply. Dry weather has so cut down the supply from the springs that the 200,000 gallon reservoir has only about 50,000 gallons of water in it at the present time.

A survey made Thursday night showed the level in the large reservoir to be at the two-foot mark, five feet lower than normal, and as a result the main supply was switched to the 25,000 gallon reservoir through which about 60,000 gallons of water can be obtained daily under normal conditions, when springs rapidly replenish the supply.

Use Water From Wells

Wells owned by the water authority have also been connected with the mains in order to keep the town supplied.

When the main reservoir reaches the two-foot level it can no longer be used to supply the town because the intake begins to draw air, Taylor said. Air in the mains cuts off the entire supply of water, he added.

Three to four days of good hard rain would replenish the spring to the point where, in about two weeks, the reservoir would be refilled and a full supply of water could be provided, Taylor said.

However, the loss of water due to the dry period is not the biggest worry of the authority, members pointed out. The problem is why 60,000 gallons of water is passing through the mains daily to serve 125 homes and business places. If all of the water is being used each home would have to be utilizing 500 gallons of water a day, Taylor noted.

As a result, the authority is seeking for leaks, possibly into some underground drains, and has asked all residents of the borough to join in the search. In the meantime the authority asked residents not to wash cars or otherwise use more water than necessary.

PLAN RALLY DAY AT ST. JAMES

Rally Day in St. James Lutheran Sunday school will be observed Sunday at 9:15 o'clock with special services in all departments. Special programs have been arranged with the following speakers in the departments as indicated:

Adult department, Prof. R. G. Mowery, of Chambersburg, president of the Franklin County Sabbath School association and superintendent of Schools of Franklin county.

Senior and Intermediate departments will meet together in the Senior department room with Dr. Erwin S. Spees, of Philadelphia, from the Parish and Church School Board of the United Lutheran Church in America, as the speaker.

Junior department, Mrs. George Ritchey, of Carlisle.

Primary department, William Yingling, of the Lutheran Theological seminary.

Beginners department, Miss Margaret Spangler, of Gettysburg.

Unbeaten Bullets Host To Powerful Lehigh Eleven Here Saturday Afternoon

An underdog Gettysburg college football squad is prepared to "shoot the works" when it tangles with the highly rated Lehigh university grid-ers on Memorial Field here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock before what is expected to be the largest crowd of the home season.

Dopers have been almost unanimous in selecting the Engineers to knock the Bullets from the ranks of the unbeaten and halt their three-game winning streak.

Lehigh comes here with what is regarded as the best team in the past 10 years representing the Bethlehem school. A horde of veterans have been bolstered with sophomores from the crack Engineer fresh team of a year ago.

Once again the Bullets will be outwitted by a considerable margin, Lehigh's starting line averaging well over 200 pounds per man. Outstanding on the line is Bob Numbers, 200-center, regarded by many as the best center in the state.

In Dick Gabriel, who has tallied eight touchdowns this season, the Engineers have the top Eastern collegiate football association ground gainer of 1949.

Joe Scannella, quarterback, is one of the leading passers this year and has connected for 16 of 30 attempts. Rick Collin rates as one of the top punters in the nation, having averaged 47.3 yards per boot this season.

Although the Bullets undoubtedly are impressed with the work of Lehigh stars to date, they are far from conceding a thing to the invaders. Last year Lehigh had practically the same team that faces the Bullets on Saturday and, with breaks, eked out a 14-13 win at Bethlehem.

The Bullet coaches were greatly disappointed with blocking and tackling in last week's contest and Coach "Hen" Bream said today "Our only chance to beat Lehigh lies in perfect blocking and tackling." Much of the work done during the week by the Bullet squad was in polishing up those fundamentals.

"If our entire squad plays its very best we have an excellent chance to win" was the unanimous opinion of the Bullet coaching staff.

Bright notes in the Bullet camp this week included the return of Bob Johnson, defensive back, to action and the announcement that Bob Court, end, will be ready for

Missing

A nine-state alarm has been broadcast by police seeking the whereabouts of pretty Mrs. Grace Matteson Mahon (below), 16, who has been missing since she left her mother's home in New London, Conn., Oct. 8, to travel by bus to her Milwaukee, Wis., home.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

A careless and irresponsible motorist gave a first class demonstration of reckless driving the other noon for the benefit of a score or more witnesses. Roaring out Chambersburg street a few minutes after noon this driver approached the Chambersburg street, Springs and Buford avenue intersection with a red light against him. He drove into the right lane and then swung, at excessive speed, into Buford avenue. Fortunately most of the school children had crossed the street and a few stragglers were detained by adults who anticipated what the onrushing motorist was going to do.

The new traffic lights at the Chambersburg street-Washington street intersection afford little protection for pedestrians crossing Chambersburg street. The green light regulating traffic on Chambersburg street remains burning for 30 seconds. The green light for traffic on Washington street burns for only 15 seconds. This is insufficient time for pedestrians, especially children, to cross Chambersburg street. Most of the time they have to run to make it and at the same time dodge cars turning into Chambersburg street from Washington street.

The West Middle-South Washington streets intersection remains a dangerous spot. There are no traffic signals there.

Rev. Willis R. Doyle, pastor of the Prince of Peace Episcopal church, writes: "Your account of wild life in Gettysburg was interesting but incomplete. In addition to a pet squirrel we fed most of the summer (it has evidently found a better boarding house because it has left us), I was startled to meet an opossum in the alley back of the fire house as I was taking a shortcut to early church. It was the more remarkable, being less than two blocks from the square."

BENDERSVILLE SEEKS SERIOUS WATER LEAKAGE

Bendersville's borough water commission today asked residents of the town to "go easy" on their use of water until the commission can discover where some 60,000 gallons is disappearing each day.

Ward Taylor, of the water authority, said today that the town is in a "bad situation" in regards to water supply. Dry weather has so cut down the supply from the springs that the 200,000 gallon reservoir has only about 50,000 gallons of water in it at the present time.

A survey made Thursday night showed the level in the large reservoir to be at the two-foot mark, five feet lower than normal, and as a result the main supply was switched to the 25,000 gallon reservoir through which about 60,000 gallons of water can be obtained daily under normal conditions, when springs rapidly replenish the supply.

Use Water From Wells

Wells owned by the water authority have also been connected with the mains in order to keep the town supplied.

When the main reservoir reaches the two-foot level it can no longer be used to supply the town because the intake begins to draw air, Taylor said. Air in the mains cuts off the entire supply of water, he added.

Three to four days of good hard rain would replenish the spring to the point where, in about two weeks, the reservoir would be refilled and a full supply of water could be provided, Taylor said.

However, the loss of water due to the dry period is not the biggest worry of the authority, members pointed out. The problem is why 60,000 gallons of water is passing through the mains daily to serve 125 homes and business places. If all of the water is being used each home would have to be utilizing 500 gallons of water a day, Taylor noted.

As a result, the authority is seeking for leaks, possibly into some underground drains, and has asked all residents of the borough to join in the search. In the meantime the authority asked residents not to wash cars or otherwise use more water than necessary.

PLAN RALLY DAY AT ST. JAMES

Rally Day in St. James Lutheran Sunday school will be observed Sunday at 9:15 o'clock with special services in all departments. Special programs have been arranged with the following speakers in the departments as indicated:

Adult department, Prof. R. G. Mowery, of Chambersburg, president of the Franklin County Sabbath School association and superintendent of Schools of Franklin county.

Senior and Intermediate departments will meet together in the Senior department room with Dr. Erwin S. Spees, of Philadelphia, from the Parish and Church School Board of the United Lutheran Church in America, as the speaker.

Junior department, Mrs. George Ritchey, of Carlisle.

Primary department, William Yingling, of the Lutheran Theological seminary.

Beginners department, Miss Margaret Spangler, of Gettysburg.

Eight Receive Watches And 4 Given Gold Pens For Years Of Service At Furniture Plants; Rev. G. H. Berkheimer Speaks

"You can't get along without your employer and he can't get along without you. Yours is a fine relationship of dependence upon each other."

The above statement was made by Rev. George H. Berkheimer, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, Ardentville, in an address Thursday evening at the third annual dinner for members of the 25 and 20 year service clubs, employees who have been with the three local furniture firms 20 or more years. The dinner was served at Graeffenburg Inn.

"The sooner we appreciate that we are as one family the better off we will be," Rev. Mr. Berkheimer continued. "We are free and we have liberty. Yet we cry out for more freedom and then we surrender our freedoms to the government for what we choose to call security."

What Is Security?

"Security from what? Perhaps. What kind of security is that? What would our forefathers have thought and accomplished if when they came to this country they had security from what? If we did not have what we would not achieve our great accomplishments. There would be no desire to progress."

"Similarly the steel strike is called to press for pensions, pensions to be paid by management. This is a sense of false security. Management cannot be asked to pay pensions. This should be on a contributory basis. Labor should assume its full share."

The laboring man is entitled to some sense of security but don't forget that we all have a share in that responsibility. It is not management alone.

Opposes Planned Economy

"The government installs what it proposes to call planned economy. It restricts and limits the amount of grain to be grown, the number of pigs and cattle to be raised in order to keep prices up, as it asserts. Once it installs that system it goes on to other things, to secure more power. Then government very reluctantly relinquishes any of its power. There can be no planned economy for some without upsetting the planned economy of many, many others. It is contrary to the laws of nature and of God. God even up those things of the soil, grain, pigs and cattle. Not man."

"The full sense of security is attained through our own efforts. The proposed soldiers' bonus, if we accept it, is like selling our dignity to the government. Only by meeting adversity and rising above difficulties can we grow strong and preserve our dignity and the worth of our souls."

'Life's Commands'

"All of us who have reached mature years have run into some of life's commands. We have discovered that there are certain things about living that are unchangeably true. Life neither coaxes nor attempts to persuade. It commands. We disobey these commands at our own peril. Life keeps suggesting that down at the bottom of things there is an indicative. You remember what that is from your study of grammar. It is

MUST REGISTER TO MAKE TOUR

Those planning to join the free tour to Letterkenny Tuesday are to register on the bulletin board at the YWCA, Center square, Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, Jr., announced today.

Mrs. McPherson, chairman of the Adams County Women's committee for Pennsylvania Week, has announced that the bus will leave Center square here at 9 a. m. on Tuesday for Letterkenny Ordnance depot. There the women will go on a tour of the huge army storage center. The only cost will be for a lunch at the Letterkenny cafeteria. The group will return about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Those wishing to make the trip can sign the paper at the YWCA up to 6 p. m. Monday.

70 Army Officers Tour Battlefield

Seventy officers from the Army Information School at Carlisle barracks visited the battlefield Thursday as part of their course of study.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, historian for the local national park office, outlined details of the battle on the relief map in the National park headquarters in the post office, and then conducted the officers on a tour of the battlefield.

Twelve employees of the Gettysburg Furniture company, Reaser Furniture company and the Gettysburg Panel company became members of the 20 and 25 year clubs at a testimonial dinner Thursday evening at Graeffenburg Inn. They, with 77 other veteran employees, were guests of M. C. Jones, general manager, who also presided as toastmaster.

It was the third annual dinner given to these men and women who have been in the employ of the companies for 20 years or more as a recognition of their distinguished service record.

Following his usual custom Mr. Jones presented the new members of the 25 year club with gold, engraved wrist watches and gold, engraved pens were given to members of the 20 year club.

The four new quarter century club members are: Miss Dorothy E. Poth, Chester S. Perry, John R. Aughinbaugh and John A. Mauss.

The new 20 year club members are: Lloyd W. Ecker, Joseph A. Hess, Dorsey H. Schultz, Mervin F. Slaybaugh, Amos W. Starry, Harry C. Sterner, Russell H. Koonz and William H. Plank.

Called 'Loyal Associates'

Mr. Jones congratulated the new club members and expressed his personal thanks for their "loyalty and splendid cooperation as associates in the firms throughout the years."

He said "We have had many ups and downs during the 40 odd years these companies have been in business. We have had some good years and we have had some very poor years, years when we encountered rough sledding. It was only through your loyalty, your unserving cooperation and your confidence in these companies that we survived. We were able to meet and surmount adverse conditions, mainly because of employees like you."

"We came through those lean years and continued to grow and progress. We expanded and we improved our product. We branched out into dining room suites, bedroom suites and tables and we now ship from coast to coast and from the Canadian line to the Gulf. We are making good, clean style furniture and we are proud of our product."

Faithful Service

"Sometimes we have had too much business and sometimes we have had too much furniture. Through your cooperation and loyalty and your faithfulness we came through and we will continue for many, many years."

Mr. Jones said that the companies lost one 25 year club member through death last month. He referred to the late Charles M. Sanders, who had been with the companies for 36 years.

Other members of the 25 year club are:

Harold A. Strickhouser	42 years
Jesse Scott	41 years
William J. Murray	41 years
George E. Stover	40 years
Mervin E. Crouse	40 years
John C. Goodermuth	38 years

60 BIRTHS IN AREA IN SEPT.

Sixty births and 15 deaths occurred in the Gettysburg district during September, Ralph C. Geiselman, local registrar of vital statistics, revealed today.

Twenty-nine male and 30 female births were in Gettysburg and one male birth was recorded in Cumberland township. Ten male and four female deaths occurred in Gettysburg and one female death was listed in Freedom township. There were no deaths or births recorded from Straban and Highland townships.

The September total brings to 572 the number of births and 137 the number of deaths in the Gettysburg district so far this year. That number compares with 536 births and 160 deaths for the same nine months last year. In September, 1948, there were 72 births and 15 deaths.

THREE MEN DIE IN SHANTY FIRE

Pittsburgh, Oct. 13 (AP) — Three Pittsburgh men were killed in a fire at a Riverside shanty.

Deputy coroners reported the victims were asphyxiated by smoke before flames engulfed the shanty—a former houseboat docked on the southside bank of the Monongahela river.

Clarence Murphy, 60, fourth occupant of the shanty, was rescued by Patrolman Howard Buncher.

The officer said he saw Murphy beating on the window. He dragged the elderly man from the blazing shanty but couldn't reach his three companions.

Victims of the fire late yesterday were identified as Joseph Kakazy, 43; Thomas Raymus, 42, and James M. Donnelly, Sr., about 60.

Murphy is being treated for shock, and slight cuts. Police couldn't question him immediately. However, they said they believed the men may have started a fire because of the cool weather which hit Pittsburgh yesterday. They added that several other men had left the shanty before flames broke out.

SENATOR URGES CHURCH ACTION

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 13 (AP)—Senator Edward Martin (R.-Pa.) says the American system of local government would be endangered by concentration of authority at Washington.

"We must fight big and costly centralized government," the junior Pennsylvania senator declared last night in a speech prepared for delivery at the state Sunday School Association convention. "We must oppose controls and regimentation because they destroy freedom."

Martin was unable to attend the convention but parts of his address were read by the Rev. R. M. Kistler, vice president of the state association.

The senator urged church members to become more active in government "because clean, honest politics is the foundation of good government."

John D. Duff, president of the state Council of Education, said Sunday school membership in Pennsylvania now is 1,871,325—a gain of 19,847 over last year.

Duff Keeping Out Of Phila. Battle

Harrisburg, Oct. 13 (AP) — Gov. James H. Duff is keeping out of Philadelphia's bitter city election campaign.

N. L. Wynard, the governor's secretary, made public a letter yesterday to James A. Finnegan, chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic Executive committee, declaring the governor would not enter a "political discussion" of the various investigations in Philadelphia.

Wynard also said Duff had complete confidence in the ability and integrity of Attorney General T. McKeen Chidsey, who directed the inquiry into the conduct of former Chief Magistrate John J. O'Malley and also the Philadelphia tax investigations.

Three Killed In Traffic Accidents

Mansfield, Pa., Oct. 13 (AP)—Two men and a woman were fatally injured in separate accidents in Tioga county yesterday.

Gerald McNeal, 33, Elmira, N. Y., died after his automobile failed to make a curve and crashed into a bridge near here.

Edson Baily, a 47-year-old farmer, was killed when his tractor overturned on his farm near Covington while Mrs. L.A. Smith, 66, was fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile as she was walking along a road near her home at Watrous.

COKE TONNAGE UP

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—The nation's coke plant operators distributed the largest tonnage of coke on record in 1948, the Bureau of Mines said today. Shipments totaling 74,214,856 tons exceeded the 1947 total of 72,000,000 tons.

START STOCKING STATE STREAMS

Harrisburg, Oct. 13 (AP)—It's still a long time away from next year's fishing season but the state Fish Commission today started stocking Pennsylvania's streams with legal sized fish.

The move is in line with Gov. James H. Duff's long-range program to provide big bass and blue gills in addition to the fingerlings that have been placed in warm water spots in the past.

"We are doing the same for bass as we have been doing for trout," Duff said as he watched experts from the Fish Commission netting the bass in Memorial lake at nearby Indiantown Gap yesterday. "It will give the kids of the state a break."

Duff inaugurated the growing of fish in the lake on the huge military reservation three years ago and this is the first crop taken away for distribution.

The commission will take the bass to the Hunsdale hatchery in nearby Cumberland county for classification. Then they will be shipped in tanks to all sections of the state. Some will be placed in Raccoon Lake Park in Beaver county as part of the celebration of Pennsylvania Week.

President Gives Columbus Day Talk

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)—President Truman told a group of Latin American diplomats Wednesday the United States is committed to "the exercise of representative democracy" in the Western Hemisphere.

The President made this apparent reference to Latin American military dictatorships in a statement to the ambassadors to the council of the organization of American states. The diplomats paid a brief visit to the White House in observance of Columbus Day, a holiday throughout Latin America.

"We in the inter-American system," Mr. Truman said in his prepared statement, "subscribe fully to the principle of non-intervention in the internal or external affairs of any American republic."

"At the same time, we are definitely committed to the proposition that our solidarity and high aims are fostered by the exercise

DELONE EDGES CARLISLE 13-7 FOR 6TH WIN

Trailing 7-0 after less than a minute and a half of play, Delone Catholic's unbeaten football team came back in true championship style to gain a 13-7 victory over Carlisle Thursday evening at McSherrystown before almost 3,500 fans.

The victory was the sixth of the season for the Squires and their fourth triumph over a South Penn conference game. It also extended the countdown's winning streak to 15 over a two-year period.

Staub received the opening kickoff and was downed on the Delone 10-yard line. On the next play Bill Sheaffer fumbled on receiving a pitch-out and Turner recovered for Carlisle on the Squires' 2. Bogar picked up a yard on a line plunge and then Jenkins went off tackle for the Carlisle touchdown. Throne booted to extra point on a placement.

A few plays later after receiving the kickoff Delone punted to Carlisle. The Green and White was stopped cold by the Delone forward wall and Jenkins dropped back to punt on the fourth down. A bad pass from center rolled back to the Carlisle 45 where Delone was granted possession.

Sheaffer Shines
Spear-headed by Sheaffer, by far the best back and outstanding player on the field, the Squires ripped out three straight first downs to the 1-yard stripe from where Murren plunged over. Murren also cracked the line for the point to tie the count at 7-7.

The second period was fought mostly in midfield although midway in the quarter Delone fought its way to the Carlisle 34-yard line where its attack bogged down. Delone started its winning touchdown drive on its own 39 early in the third period. After securing a pair of first downs to the Carlisle 40, a 15-yard penalty for piling on gave the Squires a first down on their opponents' 17. Sheaffer moved the ball to the 11 and Murren picked up two and then crashed through center from the 9 to score. A line back for the extra point was smothered.

The remainder of the game was bitterly contested. Late in the third frame Delone was set back on its 6 on a 15-yard clipping penalty but quickly eased out of the tight spot on a 13-yard scamper by Sheaffer and a 12-yard advance by Timmins.

Midway in the final period Washington intercepted a pass for Carlisle and reached Delone's 42. After securing a first down on the 30, Carlisle was halted with Delone taking over on the 22.

Delone is now idle until Sunday, October 23, when Mt. Carmel Catholic will be met at McSherrystown.

TULANE-IRISH IN BIG CLASH

By JERRY LISKA
South Bend, Ind., Oct. 14 (AP)—The game of gridiron 'possum, as played by Notre Dame and Tulane thus far this season, will end abruptly at 2 p. m. (CST) here tomorrow.

In three games to date, each of the unbeaten juggernauts has been firm but coy on the attack, keeping a tremendously wary eye on their dynamite-filled meeting at Notre Dame stadium.

Tulane, pride of the south, hurled only 36 passes in subduing Alabama, Georgia Tech and Southeastern Louisiana. The nationally top-ranked Irish have tried the airplay only 32 times in brushing aside Indiana, Washington and Purdue.

Obviously, neither team has been close to fully extended. That will come tomorrow afternoon when an overflow crowd of 57,000 will see two powerhouses fling off their wraps and measure off one another for the kill.

It could be one of the season's most electrifying games, although the wagering lads see Notre Dame winning by two touchdowns, or 13½ points.

The Irish will be gunning for their 32nd game without defeat, a skein launched when they opened the 1946 season with a 26-6 win over Illinois.

On one creek in Pennsylvania, Dingman's Creek, there are two waterfalls higher than Niagara, though not in one sheer drop.

YANKS' VICTORY PAID OFF WELL

Cincinnati, Oct. 14 (AP)—The New York Yankees' feat of winning the American league championship on the last day of the regular season and then drubbing the Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series was worth $5,665.54 to the team's full-time members.

That was the figure announced today by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler after his office force had finished figuring out who gets how much from the World Series "gate" of $1,129,627.88.

The Dodgers, who could win only one game in the World Series, cut up $137,439.64 into a total of 36½ shares. That meant each player who received a full share earned $4,272.73 for his part in the series.

Division of the World Series money also extended down through the fourth place finishers on this basis:
Second place: Boston Red Sox—$36,814.19 into 34 shares of $1,082.77 each; St. Louis Cardinals—$36,814.19 into 31½ shares of $1,165.53 plus on $100 grant.

Third place: Cleveland Indians—$24,542.79 into 39 shares of $629.56 each; Philadelphia Phils—$24,542.79 but the Phils have not yet advised Chandler of the number of players sharing in the split.

Fourth place: Detroit Tigers—$12,271.40 into 32 shares of $383.48; Boston Braves—$12,271.39 into 37 shares of $331.66 each.

FAVOR CHARLES IN COAST BOUT

By RUSS NEWLAND
San Francisco, Oct. 14 (AP)—Boxing could crown a new heavyweight champion tonight but probably will not. The odds today were 1 to 5 that Ezzard Charles would successfully defend his N.B.A. title against the challenge of Pat Valentino in their 15-round fight at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

However, the 29-year-old Valentino may be a fairly strong challenger. He lost close decisions to Jimmy Bivins and fought two draws with Joe Maxim, both of whom extended the titleholder plenty, although defeated.

Aside from the remote possibility he could become the upset victim of Valentino's punishing body attack, Charles figures to win rather handily. He is the superior boxer, much faster than his rival, and has proved he can take a knockdown punch and come back to win. Charles is expected to weigh about 180 and his rival about 185.

The match will be worth $40,000 to Charles. The guarantee is the biggest for him since he joined the professional ranks in 1940.

For Valentino it is the chance of a lifetime. The swarthy Italian-American, who wears his jet black hair almost long enough for ribbons, has won a majority of his fights since he started here nine years ago. He whipped Turkey Thompson last December for the California state title. This will be his first bout since. The fight is scheduled for 10 p. m. (1 a. m. Saturday, EST).

Title Ball Game On - Arendtsville Field

Baseball will be officially concluded for the 1949 season in Adams county Sunday afternoon when the Conewago VFW and Hanover Moose lock horns at Arendtsville in a game to decide the championship of the Adams County league. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. Originally it was planned to play the game on Saturday.

Last week wet grounds prevented play. Previously in the first of the best-of-three game series, Conewago triumphed 5-2 while Hanover took the second game 2-1 to even the series.

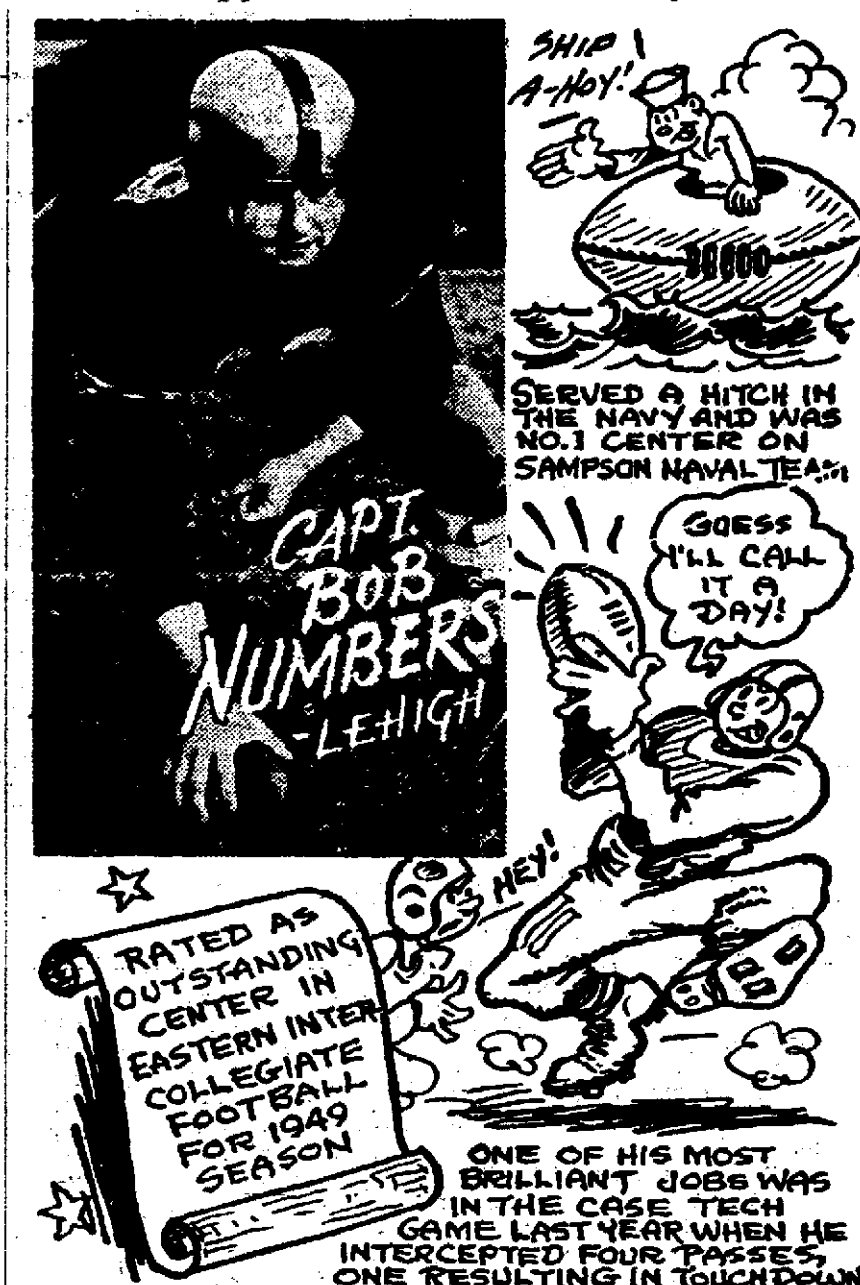

York Springs Host To Washington Twp.

After a layoff last week occasioned by an opponent's dropping football, the York Springs high school football team will resume activities Saturday evening at 8 o'clock when Washington Township will be met at York Springs in a Little Six conference game.

The upper countians whipped Stewartstown 25-0 in their first game in history and then lost to Dallastown 31-13. Both were conference games.

WESTMINSTER ROUTS L-TOWN GRIDDERS 31-0

A strong Westminster high school football team won its fourth successive victory Thursday night by defeating Littlestown 31-0 on the Thunderbolts' field.

F. Lee, first Westminster back, sparked his team to victory by accounting for four touchdowns and an extra point.

The Marylanders scored twice in the opening period. Hooper sweeping right end and racing 70 yards for a score. Lee made good on his kick for the extra point.

A few plays later Lee scored after Westminster secured possession of the ball on the fumble by Littlestown on its own 30-yard mark.

After a scoreless second period Westminster tallied a lone touchdown in the third period when Lee ran 15 yards.

Lee ran 60 and 20 yards, respectively, for touchdowns in the final period.

The defeat was the second in four contests for Coach Clay Evans' Adams countians.

Next Friday evening Littlestown will be host to York Springs in a Little Six conference game.

The lineups:

L. Town	Westminster
L. E. Snyder	Trump
L. T. Dutera	Welliver
L. G. Brown	Zuck

Touchdowns, F. Lee, 3; Hooper, PAT, F. Lee, placement. Substitutions: Littlestown—Gerrick, Bish, Conover, Shanebrook, C. Badders, H. Badders, Hankey; Westminster—Brown, Logue, Referee, Bush, Umpire, Keffer, Headlinesman, Wagman.

Bucknell Underdog In Temple Contest

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Temple Owls and the Bucknell Bison clash tonight at Temple Stadium in their annual football battle for the old shoe trophy.

Temple, with a record of two wins and one loss—a 54-0 shellacking by Texas—goes into the game a slight favorite. The Templars have defeated Rutgers and Syracuse.

Bucknell is undefeated this season, having trounced New York University and Delaware.

The old shoe was first presented in 1945 by the Temple Dental Alumni Association in memory of Temple and Bucknell players killed in World War II. The trophy has been won four times in a row by Temple.

BUBBLERS TRIUMPH

"Bud" Ecker's Boiling Springs high school football team kept its undefeated record intact Thursday night by disposing of Juniata Joint 33-6 on the Bubblers' field. The victory marked the sixth in a row for the winners and the first time in history the Bubblers won from a Juniata team.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Leftover reports from World series visitors—nothing guaranteed. . . . One midwestern writer insists that the Indians won't be sold soon because they already have been sold. No hint as to the identity of the buyers except that Hank Greenberg doesn't figure in the deal. . . . Another informant says the reason why Branch Rickey has been peddling so many players is that the Dodgers are really hard up for ready cash to pay off some loans. . . . The farm system has been expensive and Rickey and the other Brooklyn owners are said to be at odds on the subject of cutting down agricultural operations.

Al Lopez, Indianapolis manager, was offered the Cincinnati job but turned it down after getting a raise from his Pittsburgh bosses and a promise that he'll be made Pirate manager when and if Billy Meyer retires.

SHERMAN RIGHT AGAIN

The other day Al Sherman, football Giants' backfield coach, promised to buy a hand-painted necktie for defensive Halfback Emlen Tunnell every time Em intercepted a pass. . . . Tunnel then went out and grabbed everything in sight against the Redskins last Sunday, costing Sherman about 15 bucks. . . . After one notable shoe-top interception, Emien returned to the sidelines asking: "Where's Red Smith? Maybe I can play for the Cubs next summer."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

When the Victoria, B. C., and Tacoma, Wash., Hockey clubs meet tomorrow night it will be the first clash between the teams operated by Lester Patrick, retired head man of the Rangers, and his younger son, Murray. . . . Muzz Patrick is listed as general manager, coach and publicity man at Tacoma and reports say he's returning to the active player list, too. . . . Fred Egan, who won the Hambletonian this year with Miss Tilly, says Scotch Deah is a better juvenile trotter now than Miss T. was a year ago. . . . Sports-writer Jeanne Hoffman, newly-appointed executive editor of the Police Gazette, probably is the niftiest blonde to appear in that celebrated publication. . . . The Temple and Bucknell football teams play tonight for the "old shoe" trophy, donated by Temple's Dental Alumni society. . . . Too bad they didn't make it the decayed bicuspid. Then you could predict it would be won by a well-drilled team.

Favor Villanova To Defeat Tulsa

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Villanova's Wildcats are favored to romp to their fifth straight football triumph at Shibe Park tonight with the Golden Hurricanes of Tulsa taking the beating.

While Villanova was chalking up victories over Texas Aggies, Penn State, Detroit and St. Mary's, Tulsa had to be content with one triumph over McMurry (Ky.) Teachers'. The Oklahomans lost to Detroit, Texas Tech and Florida.

DELONE EDGES CARLISLE 13-7 FOR 6TH WIN

Trailing 7-0 after less than a minute and a half of play, Delone Catholic's unbeaten football team came back in true championship style to gain a 13-7 victory over Carlisle Thursday evening at McSherrystown before almost 3,500 fans.

The victory was the sixth of the season for the Squires and their fourth triumph over a South Penn conference game. It also extended the countians' winning streak to 15 over a two-year period.

Staub received the opening kickoff and was downed on the Delone 10-yard line. On the next play Bill Sheaffer fumbled on receiving a pitch-out and Turner recovered for Carlisle on the Squires' 2. Bogar picked up a yard on a line plunge and then Jenkins went off tackle for the Carlisle touchdown. Throne booted to extra point on a placement.

A few plays later after receiving the kickoff Delone punted to Carlisle. The Green and White was stopped cold by the Delone forward wall and Jenkins dropped back to punt on the fourth down. A bad pass from center rolled back to the Carlisle 45 where Delone was granted possession.

Sheaffer Shines
Spear-headed by Sheaffer, by far the best back and outstanding player on the field, the Squires ripped out three straight first downs to the 1-yard stripe from where Murren plunged over. Murren also cracked the line for the point to tie the count at 7-7.

The second period was fought mostly in midfield although midway in the quarter Delone fought its way to the Carlisle 34-yard line where its attack bogged down.

Delone started its winning touchdown drive on its own 39 early in the third period. After securing a pair of first downs to the Carlisle 40, a 15-yard penalty for piling on gave the Squires a first down on their opponents' 17. Sheaffer moved the ball to the 11 and Murren picked up two and then crashed through center from the 9 to score. A line buck for the extra point was smothered.

The remainder of the game was bitterly contested. Late in the third frame Delone was set back on its 5 on a 15-yard clipping penalty but quickly eased out of the tight spot on a 13-yard scamper by Sheaffer and a 12-yard advance by Timmins.

Midway in the final period Washington intercepted a pass for Carlisle and reached Delone's 42. After securing a first down on the 30, Carlisle was halted with Delone taking over on the 22.

Delone is now idle until Sunday, October 23, when Mt. Carmel Catholic will be met at McSherrystown.

The lineups:
Delone Catholic
Ends—Nicholson, Noel, Trostle.
Tackles—R. Smith, P. Smith, Bollerford.
Guards—Kreps, J. Smith, Rider.
Center—Rebling.
Backs—Staub, Murren, Timmins, Sheaffer, Steinberger.
Carlisle
Ends—Turner, Washington.
Tackles—Lowry, Stull, Stuart, Zuver.
Guards—Miller, Ahlers, Anderson, Cypress.
Centers—Beltzhoover, McCoy.
Backs—Bogar, Nickley, Alexander, Jenkins, Hawbaker, Park, Throner.

Delone 7 0 6 0-13
Carlisle 7 0 0 0-7

Touchdowns, Murren, 2; Jenkins.
Points after touchdowns, Throne (place); Murren (plunge).

TULANE-IRISH IN BIG CLASH

By JERRY LISKA
South Bend, Ind., Oct. 14 (AP)—The game of gridiron 'possum, as played by Notre Dame and Tulane thus far this season, will end abruptly at 2 p. m. (CST) here tomorrow.

In three games to date, each of the unbeaten juggernauts has been firm but coy on the attack, keeping a tremendously wary eye on their dynamite-filled meeting at Notre Dame stadium.

Tulane, pride of the south, hurled only 36 passes in subduing Alabama, Georgia Tech and Southeastern Louisiana. The nationally top-ranked Irish have tried the airplanes only 32 times in brushing aside Indiana, Washington and Purdue.

Obviously, neither team has been close to fully extended. That will come tomorrow afternoon when an overflow crowd of 57,000 will see two powerhouses fling off their wraps and measure off one another for the kill.

It could be one of the season's most electrifying games, although the wagering lads see Notre Dame winning by two touchdowns, or 13½ points.

The Irish will be gunning for their 32nd game without defeat, a skein launched when they opened the 1946 season with a 26-6 win over Illinois.

On one creek in Pennsylvania, Dingman's Creek, there are two waterfalls higher than Niagara, though not in one sheer drop.

part time duty on Saturday.

Bob McCausland, end, who reinjured his arm early this year, donned togs again this week and is busy getting into shape. He will not be able to face Lehigh but should be ready for full duty in the near future.

The loss of Jack Schellhase, speedy back, who broke his left leg drilling against the freshmen on Wednesday afternoon, will mean that Junie Griffiths, who heretofore has been used solely as a defensive back, will be given some duty on the offense.

The entire squad has been going through drills with a determination that presages some busy moments for Lehigh and if spirit counts for anything the Bullets may spring an upset.

Saturday's meeting will be the 18th between the schools, Gettysburg holding the edge with eight wins against six losses and three deadlocks.

Bands from both schools will be present and a large delegation of Lehigh fans will also trek here for the game.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock a pep rally will be held in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium.

They are Billy Huber, of Reading; Charles "BeeBee" Smith, Washington, D. C.; Leon Applegate, Trenton, N. J.; and Andy Liscano, of Columbus, O.

WESTMINSTER ROUTS L-TOWN GRIDDEERS 31-0

A strong Westminster high school football team won its fourth successive victory Thursday night by defeating Littlestown 31-0 on the Thunderbolts' field.

F. Lee, first Westminster back, sparked his team to victory by accounting for four touchdowns and an extra point.

The Marylanders scored twice in the opening period, Hooper sweeping right end and racing 70 yards for a score. Lee made good on his kick for the extra point.

A few plays later Lee scored after Westminster secured possession of the ball on the fumble by Littlestown on its own 30-yard mark.

After a scoreless second period Westminster tallied a lone touchdown in the third period when Lee ran 15 yards.

Lee ran 60 and 20 yards, respectively, for touchdowns in the final period.

The defeat was the second in four contests for Coach Clay Evans' Adams countians.

Next Friday evening Littlestown will be host to York Springs in a Little Six conference game.

Bucknell Underdog In Temple Contest

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Temple Owls and the Bucknell Bison clash tonight at Temple Stadium in their annual football battle for the old shoe trophy.

Temple, with a record of two wins and one loss—a 54-0 shellacking by Texas—goes into the game a slight favorite. The Templars have defeated Rutgers and Syracuse.

Bucknell is undefeated this season, having trounced New York University and Delaware.

The old shoe was first presented in 1945 by the Temple Dental Alumni Association in memory of Temple and Bucknell players killed in World War II. The trophy has been won four times in a row by Temple.

BUBBLERS TRIUMPH

"Bud" Ecker's Boiling Springs high school football team kept its undefeated record intact Thursday night by disposing of Juniata Joint 33-6 on the Bubblers' field. The victory marked the sixth in a row for the winners and the first time in history the Bubblers won from a Juniata team.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Leftover reports from World series visitors—nothing guaranteed: . . . One mid-western writer insists that the Indians won't be sold soon because they already have been sold. No hint as to the identity of the buyers except that Hank Greenberg doesn't figure in the deal. . . . Another informant says the reason why Branch Rickey has been peddling so many players is that the Dodgers are really hard up for ready cash to pay off some loans. . . . The farm system has been expensive and Rickey and the other Brooklyn owners are said to be at odds on the subject of cutting down agricultural operations.

Al Lopez, Indianapolis manager, was offered the Cincinnati job but turned it down after getting a raise from his Pittsburgh bosses and a promise that he'll be made Pirate manager when and if Billy Meyer retires.

SHERMAN RIGHT AGAIN
The other day Al Sherman, football Giants backfield coach, promised to buy a hand-painted necktie for defensive Halfback Emlien Tunnel every time Em intercepted a pass. . . . Tunnel went out and grabbed everything in sight against the Redskins last Sunday, costing Sherman about 15 bucks. . . . After one notable shoe-top interception, Emlien returned to the sidelines asking: "Where's Red Smith? Maybe I can play for the Cubs next summer."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
When the Victoria, B. C., and Tacoma, Wash., Hockey clubs meet tomorrow night it will be the first clash between the teams operated by Lester Patrick, retired head man of the Rangers, and his younger son, Murray. . . . Muzz Patrick is listed as general manager, coach and publicity man at Tacoma and reports say he's returning to the active player list, too. . . . Fred Egan, who won the Hambletonian this year with Miss Tilly, says Scotch Dean is a better juvenile trotter now than Miss T. was a year ago. . . . Sports-writer Jeanne Hoffman, newly-appointed executive editor of the Police Gazette, probably is the niftiest blonde to appear in that celebrated publication. . . . The Temple and Bucknell football teams play tonight for the "old shoe" trophy, donated by Temple's Dental Alumni society. . . . Too bad they didn't make it the decayed bicuspid. Then you could predict it would be won by a well-drilled team.

Favor Villanova To Defeat Tulsa
Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Villanova's Wildcats are favored to romp to their fifth straight football triumph at Shibe Park tonight with the Golden Hurricanes of Tulsa taking the beating.

While Villanova was chalking up victories over Texas Aggies, Penn State, Detroit and St. Mary's, Tulsa had to be content with one triumph over McMurry (Ky.) Teachers'. The Oklahomaans lost to Detroit, Texas Tech and Florida.

The classes will be held each Monday evening during the next six weeks, ending November 21, with two-hour instructional periods held each week. Miss Mildred H. Moser, 440 York street, a registrar for the school.

Teachers and the courses they will each include the Rev. H. S. Ecker, pastor of Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, "The Prophets and Their Messages"; Miss A. Mylanwy Roberts, Harrisburg, director of children's work for the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, "The Child's Approach to Religion"; the Rev. Howard J. McCarty, chaplain at Gettysburg college, "The Church's Program for Youth"; Dr. Harvey D. Hoover of the local Lutheran Theological seminary, "The Home and Church Work Together"; and Ira C. Sassaman, director of adult work for the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, "Helping Leaders to Improve Their Work."

LOCAL SCHOOLS ARE INSPECTED

Inspection of fire hazard and prevention situations in the public and parochial schools here this week resulted in favorable findings, it was reported today by Charles I. Kepner, Waynesboro, an inspector for the state Department of Labor and industry.

Mr. Kepner was particularly impressed with the fire drills at all buildings where he found the children cooperating in a fast and orderly fashion.

Fire fighting equipment and emergency lighting systems at all buildings were termed by Mr. Kepner as "average."

Mr. Kepner reported that the time to clear buildings during fire drills were as follows:

High school, 629 pupils, 1:20; Meade school, 246 pupils, :50; High street, 245 pupils, :40; Lincoln school, 285 pupils, 1:15, and parochial school, 273 pupils, :50.

The inspection was made in connection with Fire Prevention Week being observed currently.

LOCAL CHURCH

The first quarterly conference for the year 1949-50 for the Gettysburg, Biglerville, and Orrtanna churches will be held Wednesday evening under the direction of the conference superintendent.

On Thursday evening, the Rev. D. Floyd Mowery, pastor of the Community Evangelical United Brethren church in New Cumberland, will speak. On Friday, the Rev. M. C. Manning, pastor of the Church of God in Shippensburg, will speak.

Rally Day will be held Sunday morning, October 23. Charles Cornelius from the Evangelical United Brethren publishing house in Harrisburg will bring the message. At the concluding service on Sunday evening Dr. Paul E. V. Shannon, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren church will be the speaker.

The public is invited to attend these services.

PUPILS DONATE $98 TO CHEST

School children of the Gettysburg public schools have contributed thus far $98.02 to the 1949 Community Chest campaign, with more not yet reported.

School children were asked to bring their contributions to school on Thursday and Friday. Each child contributing was given a red feather, no matter how large or small the contribution. The amounts ranged from one cent upwards.

Reports from seven home rooms at the high school showed contributions of $21.64, with 13 more home rooms to report by 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Children at the High street school contributed $28.57, and this amount has been turned over to Community Chest headquarters.

Lincoln school pupils gave $21.71, the school said this afternoon. At the Meade school, the contributions totaled $36.10.

FOUR BANKERS ATTEND MEETING

Four bankers from Biglerville and Arendtsville attended a Correspondent bank meeting Tuesday in the Hotel Warwick, Philadelphia, as guests of the Pennsylvania Company for Banking and Trusts.

Attending from Biglerville were C. E. Rouzer and J. D. Miller. Arnold Orner and Roy Zeigler attended from Arendtsville.

John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury, addressed the afternoon session. Rev. W. Brown, president of the Reading railroad, discussed the railroad situation. Some major bank problems were considered by William Fulton Kurtz and the economic situation was reviewed by Dr. Lionel D. Edie.

At the morning session the problems of trust costs and bank lending policies were the topics under discussion.

A job-rating panel also was part of the meeting. Discussed was the factor-comparison method of job evaluation. In this method sole concern is given to the duties in a given job and their relation to other jobs. These duties are measured by five factors, skill, mentality, responsibility, physical effort and working conditions. Stressed as important traits in banking were sound judgment, courtesy and good customer contact.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Cramer, Thurmont R. 2, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital this morning.

something absolute. All its commandments are sure. And out of that indicative life's imperatives spring You can only break yourself against them. Life has no greater lesson for us to learn as we seek to chart for ourselves a course into the unknown future.

"I suggest that we begin with a firm conviction that at the center of this queer world there is a moral order which we neither set up nor can in any way alter, anyone or we set up the law of gravity or can alter the procession of the equinoxes.

"That is what always amazes me about our modern approach to the riddle of life. Some of us here in America seem to think that we are under no restraint at all. Being free means doing pretty much as we please. There is something in the middle of the world that works a strange kind of justice. Whenever our culture becomes man-centered or secular something happens. We reap a harvest of misery.

Favors Atlantic Pact

"I believe that here is just what history has been trying to teach us. Morality has no real meaning apart from God. There is a relation which man has with man, but it must be through God. And there is a relation which man has with God, but it had better be through man.

"It is this religion of ours that holds the key to the future. It is nonsensical to expect that we can keep on defending a Democracy with one hand while with the other we undermine the very foundations of that Democracy. I am a firm believer in the United Nations. I am a staunch advocate of the Atlantic Defense Pact. The world has proven itself to be too small a place for us to stay out of its trouble. Therefore, we have every right—yes, it is our God-given responsibility—to take an active role in the conduct of world affairs, to lend our assistance in finding solutions of the world's problems before they lead inevitably to war. However, in order for our country to let its influence be most effective we must recognize the inevitable character of the commands of God. We must remember that to build a home or to build a nation or to build a world on a permanent basis demands loyalty to the highest moral commands based upon Christian principles."

The news columns of The Gettysburg Times are open to all sources. Those residing in the Upper Communities are requested to telephone their news to Roland Kime, Biglerville, Exchange 21-R-14 or phone direct to The Times, Gettysburg 640.

Mrs. J. D. Miller and Mrs. J. S. Boyer, of Biglerville, spent Thursday afternoon in York.

Mr. and Mrs. Elaine G. Walter, of Biglerville, are attending an automobile dealer's convention in Atlantic City.

Oscar Rice, Jr., Biglerville, left by plane this morning for a day's business trip to Clearwater, Ohio.

The Rev. Dr. Claude J. Snyder, of St. Louis, Mo., secretary of town and country church work in the Evangelical and Reformed denomination, will be the guest pastor at the 11 a. m. service of the Biglerville Reformed church on Sunday.

Harvest Home services will be observed in all three churches of the Bendersville Lutheran charge on Sunday. Token displays of the year's harvest will be arranged in the churches. The Harvest Home offerings will be given to the Home for the Aged.

Mrs. Norman Morrison has returned to her home in Hawthorne, Nev., after spending a week in Washington, D. C., and visiting relatives in Bendersville and Harrisburg.

BUSINESS GROUP HOLDS MEETING

The Biglerville Business club met Wednesday evening in the high school building.

James Shetter reported that Biglerville business places are now being solicited for funds to carry out plans for a Christmas program and decorations. Only business places will be called upon personally, but anyone desiring to support this community project is urged to make a contribution. The amount of money raised governs the extent to which the program will be carried.

Sgt. W. K. Duhrtzoff, head of the Gettysburg state police sub-station led a discussion on highway safety. Chief points under discussion were the new laws concerning school buses and bus stops and the downtown parking habits of many drivers.

It was noted that some persons will park in front of a business place for many hours, thus depriving customers of convenient parking space. The answer to this problem boiled down to courtesy in driving and parking.

The program committee for next month will be Harry Rouzer and John Breighner.

Make Plans For Mardi Gras Night

Committee chairmen in charge of arrangements for the fourth annual Mardi Gras to be held on Halloween night, October 31, at the South Mountain Fair grounds, met Wednesday evening to coordinate final plans for this event.

This year's program will be much the same as last year's. One change will be in the admission price. Last year, when a new cars was given away, the admission was one dollar. This year, however, no car will be given away and the price of admission has been reduced to fifty cents.

A double feature movie will be shown in the memorial auditorium. There will be square dancing and round dancing, a shooting gallery and ball throwing. Prizes will be awarded for Halloween costumes.

Seminarians' Wives Are Taking Course

Wives of seminarians at the Gettysburg Lutheran theological seminary are proving as apt pupils as their husbands.

Back in 1947, when the influx of wives of seminarians began, the women formed a social organization. Then they decided that since they were to be ministers' wives they had best devote their lives to learning how to properly operate a personage. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover agreed to be the instructor and the group's meeting at various homes and at the seminary library. Now with more than 40 wives in the organization, the group is faced with another problem—a place big enough for the classes.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

St. Louis Wins World Series: Detroit, Oct. 10 (AP)—Completing the spectacular career of the Deans with a history making climax, the great Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean pitched St. Louis to the baseball championship of the world Tuesday, with a record shutout triumph, 11 to 0, as the Cardinal clouting crew hammered and routed the pitching staff of the Detroit Tigers in an wild and riotous a finish as any world series ever has witnessed.

The National league champions blasted the last defense of Mickey Cochrane's battered Bengals with a smashing seven-run attack in the third. They bombarded six pitchers all told for a total of seventeen hits, while Dizzy Dean, turning in the fourth victory for his team and family, emerged from the seventh and final game with the most lopsided shutout margin in series history. The previous record was set by the New York Giants when Christy Mathewson blanked the Athletics, 9 to 0, in 1905.

Local Girl Is Married Saturday

Miss Lillian Diehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Diehl, Hanover street, and Charles Keller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller, Sellinsgrove, were married on Saturday at Bellefonte, by the Rev. Elmer Ruth. The young couple will reside in Sellinsgrove, where the groom is associated in business with his father.

County Girl Is Married: Miss Josephine B. Fidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Benton Fidler, of Bendersville, and John A. Minnich, son of Attorney and Mrs. John N. Minnich, of Bedford, were married Saturday morning, at 10:15 o'clock, by the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, at the Bethlehem Lutheran church, Bendersville.

New Officers Take Over Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz post 202 held its first meeting of the fiscal year, Monday evening, in the post room.

Mrs. Allen Dubbs, secretary, presented Mrs. Annie Eckenrode, president, with a past president's badge. Following the meeting cards were played.

New Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Clair Bucher, president; Mrs. Howard Sheffer, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Warman, second vice president; Mrs. Allen Dubbs, secretary; Mrs. William Shover, treasurer; Mrs. James Howe, chaplain; Mrs. Henry Dickert, historian; and Mrs. Gervus Myers, sergeant at arms.

King Alexander, Foreign Minister Barthou are slain: Marseilles, France, Oct. 9 (AP)—King Alexander, of Yugoslavia, and Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, were assassinated today as the Yugoslav monarch came to France in an effort to improve Yugoslav-French relations.

The king, fresh from a triumph of friendly diplomacy in Bulgaria, and Barthou, were assassinated by two men, one of them known to be a Yugoslav.

Boys Taylor Residence: Joseph Boyer, of Biglerville, purchased the home of the late Fred A. Taylor, Biglerville, Thursday afternoon. Mr. Boyer will occupy the new home.

High School Play Oct. 19: Rehearsals are being held daily at Gettysburg high school for the presentation of "Touchdown," a comedy, to be given Friday evening, October 19, in the high school auditorium.

The plot centers chiefly around Edward Hudson as "Grant Hayden," Raymond Barbaugh as Grant's younger brother, and John Lawver as "Albert Woolfe." Miss Janet Fissler will appear as "Watassa Faulner" and Miss Jeanette Spangler will portray "Rena Maynard."

Other roles will be taken by John Deardorff, Arthur Phiel, Robert Hanson, Betty Jane Snyder, Marion Sheely, Christine Tawney, Mary E. Wierman, Cedric Tilberg and Walter Kuhn.

THE LEAVES

Outside the room where I write, leaves are falling, gently, noiselessly.

The Autumn Sun has given to each its burial robe in magical colorful array. The Autumn rains have now to them their last silvery wash. Now they are falling for their long sleep upon Mother Earth. In the Springtime I watched with glee the unfolding of these very leaves. Day by day I watched and was filled with wonder at the sight.

Great masses of beauty in every tint and shade, like rare tapestries, hang upon these branches that I look upon—but each day more leaves fall—silently like snowflakes. Each leaf a perfect work of art, perfect in design and color. And every variety its own balanced form and construction.

Life's changes are forever on the move. Soon the last leaf will have found its place with its former companions, and only bare branches will wave in the winds of Winter. There is a note of sadness in the passing of Summer and its next companion,

Autumn, but life itself goes on. There will be another Springtime, and other leaves will spring into the Sunlight where these of today have been. Nature lets nothing totally die.

How characteristic is every leaf of every tree, shrub, and flower!

Each its own design, and with a circulatory system truly remarkable, especially when viewed under the magic of a microscope. I keep a maple leaf under the glass top of my work desk. It is in its Autumn dress, full of brilliant beauty.

Over in New Jersey is a mail carrier who is greatly beloved by all who meet him from day to day. He is a lover of Nature and a fine photographer, but he is also noted as a poet and lover of children. His name is Bucky McDonnell, and he is the author of several books of poetry. He has the happy habit of always enclosing a pressed leaf in all the letters that he writes, and slips them to both friends and strangers.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Home To Yourself."

OCTOBER AND THE ARTIST

I'm glad I'm not an artist when

October tints the trees,

To be saddened by the glory all around him that he sees.

It must set the heart to aching when the humblest woodland patch

Shines with gold and scarlet splendor which his skill can never match.

October must be trying to the artist

as he views

So much of perfect beauty which he knows his brush must lose.

It must set the mind to brooding to see charm you cannot catch

And have pictures all around you which your skill can never match.

The artist is a lover, with a furious desire

The exquisite touch of nature for his canvas to acquire.

Since I know the ache of failure, and what hopeless yearning means,

I am glad I'm not an artist when

October paints the scenes.

KAISER OWES GOVERNMENT $186,500,000

By CHARLES MOLONY
(For James Marlow)

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—The government has a stake of approximately $186,500,000 in Henry J. Kaiser's industrial empire.

The government's credit allowances reached that peak—equivalent of $1.25 for every man, woman and child in the population—when the 67-year-old builder-seller's auto enterprise got a $34,400,000 loan last week to back its 1950 production plans, which include a new low-price car.

Before the war Kaiser handled millions of dollars in government contracts, sharing notably in work on the great dams in the west: Boulder, Bonneville, Grand Coulee, Shasta.

Entirely privately financed in those days, the one-time dry goods store cash-boy didn't owe the government a dime. Neither did he have the money-making assets that his present debt to the government represents.

Paid Off Loans
During the war, when Kaiser's government contracts soared into the billions, he borrowed $152,780,000 from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC)—maker of the new auto loan—to build, expand and operate plants.

Payments on principal along with millions in interest at four per cent have reduced the balance due on those wartime borrowings to $96,000,000, all owed on the big Fontana steel mill outside Los Angeles.

Kaiser completely paid off—ahead of time, too—$28,475,000 borrowed to build the Permanente Corp. magnesium plants out west and $1,000,000 for aircraft production at a Bristol, Pa., plant.

Meanwhile, he has run up new credits in the postwar purchase of wartime-built plants from the War Assets Administration (WAA).

WAA records show Kaiser still owes $56,000,000 after payment of $3,773,000 principal and more millions in four per cent interest on these acquisitions.

That doesn't take into account some Kaiser enterprise leases of plants (a $17,428,000-cost steel mill at Cleveland) and machinery and equipment (mostly at the former bomber plant at Willow Run).

War-time Shipbuilder
Kaiser's most famed wartime enterprise was building some 1,500 ships, like cargo-troop transports, "baby" aircraft carriers, etc.

Kaiser himself once figured his shipbuilding contracts, after adjustment, came to $2,994,283,738, yielding him a profit of $166,500,049 or 5.6 per cent before taxes and $94,515,098 or 3.2 per cent after taxes.

Taking into consideration his other war production—steel, magnesium, incendiary material, aircraft and parts, and cement for Pacific operations—he claimed he saved the government $465,924,000 on costs compared with what it would have had to pay elsewhere.

Once Kaiser gave a Congressional committee his own capsule view of these achievements in these words: "Great war production, great savings in time and dollars, comparatively small government financing, small profits, no favoritism."

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Two key congressmen proposed today that President Truman name a civilian board to referee the bitter row over defense plans which has erupted in the armed forces.

Their suggestion closely paralleled one already offered Mr. Truman by the Army-Navy Union, an organization of present and former servicemen. The lawmakers' proposal came on the heels of the President's news conference statement yesterday that he sees no need to change the fundamentals of present defense policy.

Of the original broadcast stations, WWJ of Detroit, and KDKA of Pittsburgh, both are still on the air. They started in 1920.

MANY PLAYER CHANGES SEEN

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—Unless designs fail, there are going to be some wholesale changes in the league personnel of most major league clubs.

Still smarting over their 1949 disappointments, big league clubs own-stand-pat policy that has prevailed since the war years dating back 1942.

Club presidents like Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals, Lou Perini of the Boston Braves, Frank McInerney of Pittsburgh and Al Griffith of Washington, already have announced they are prepared to clean house, if necessary, in order to strengthen their teams in 1950.

Saigh, the 44-year-old Card boss, disclosed recently he had talked in trade with four clubs—the Giants, Dodgers, Cubs and Pirates. He

SUITS ON FILE IN SMOG DEATHS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sixteen suits filed in Federal District court ask a total of $796,000 damages from the American Steel and Wire Co. in the smog deaths last year in Donora. Attorney Charles J. Margiotti said other suits will be filed by persons who suffered smog injuries and by relatives of those who died. He estimated the total would run to 131 suits and more than $2,000,000.

The suits blame American Steel and Wire, a subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corp., for releasing chemical fumes into the air resulting in a score of deaths last October.

The company, in an answer to the first 10 suits filed, denied responsibility for the deaths and asserted the fatal smog was the result of a weather-induced collection of various fumes in the area.

Several days ago we wrote that every elevator stop in the 8-story Basin Park hotel, Eureka Springs, Arkansas, is a ground floor stop because the hotel is built on the side of a hill.

The Basin Park hotel was built by William M. Duncan, a native of Gettysburg and brother of Schmucker Duncan, who now resides on East Middle street. The hotel was the dream and objective of William Duncan in the years before it was built. He sought constantly to improve the business and living conditions of his community. He was in the water business for a number of years at Eureka Springs and was the organizer of the leading bank there. Eureka Springs was a health and pleasure resort in the foothills of the Ozark mountains. During the panic years of 1907 the hotel property passed to other management and owners. Mr. Duncan, now resides in Los Angeles.

Girl Scout week will be observed from October 30 to November 5.

Payments on principal along with millions in interest at four per cent have reduced the balance due on those wartime borrowings to $96,000,000, all owed on the big Fontana steel mill outside Los Angeles.

Kaiser completely paid off—ahead of time, too—$28,475,000 borrowed to build the Permanente Corp. magnesium plants out west and $1,000,000 for aircraft production at a Bristol, Pa., plant.

Meanwhile, he has run up new credits in the postwar purchase of wartime-built plants from the War Assets Administration (WAA).

WAA records show Kaiser still owes $56,000,000 after payment of $3,773,000 principal and more millions in four per cent interest on these acquisitions.

That doesn't take into account some Kaiser enterprise leases of plants (a $17,428,000-cost steel mill at Cleveland) and machinery and equipment (mostly at the former bomber plant at Willow Run.)

Wartime Shipbuilder

Kaiser's most famed wartime enterprise was building some 1,500 ships, like cargo-troop transports, "baby" aircraft carriers, etc.

Kaiser himself once figured his shipbuilding contracts, after adjustment, came to $2,994,283,738, yielding him a profit of $166,500,049 or 5.6 per cent before taxes and $94,515,098 or 3.2 per cent after taxes.

Taking into consideration his other war production—steel, magnesium, incendiary material, aircraft and parts, and cement for Pacific operations—he claimed he saved the government $465,924,000 on costs compared with what it would have had to pay elsewhere.

Once Kaiser gave a Congressional committee his own capsule view of these achievements in these words: "Great war production, great savings in time and dollars, comparatively small government financing, small profits, no favoritism."

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Two key congressmen proposed today that President Truman name a civilian board to referee the bitter row over defense plans which has erupted in the armed forces.

Their suggestion closely paralleled one already offered Mr. Truman by the Army-Navy Union, an organization of present and former servicemen. The lawmakers' proposal came on the heels of the President's news conference statement yesterday that he sees no need to change the fundamentals of present defense policy.

Of the original broadcast stations, WWJ of Detroit, and KDKA of Pittsburgh, both are still on the air. They started in 1920.

MANY PLAYER CHANGES SEEN

New York, Oct. 13 (AP)—Unless all signs fail, there are going to be some wholesale changes in the player personnel of most major league clubs.

Still smarting over their 1949 disappointments, big league club owners are prepared to discard the stand-pat policy that has prevailed since the war years dating back to 1942.

Club presidents like Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals, Lou Perini of the Boston Braves, Frank McKinney of Pittsburgh and Clark Griffith of Washington, already have announced they are prepared to clean house, if necessary, in order to strengthen their teams for 1950.

Saigh, the 44-year-old Card boss, disclosed recently he had talked trade with four clubs—the Giants, Dodgers, Cubs and Pirates. He is seeking a catcher, a righthanded hitting outfielder and insurance for Marty Marion, the brilliant but brittle shortstop.

Pittsburgh already has purchased 20-year-old infielder Danny O'Connell from the Brooklyn-owned St. Paul club for a reported $50,000 while handing outright releases to 39-year-old Dixie Walker and 42-year-old Rip Sewell, in an effort to instill youth into the Pirates.

AWARD SCHOLARSHIP
Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—Scholarships with a value of either $340 or $500 have been awarded to 27 students for elementary teacher training in the state's 14 teachers' colleges. Two other scholarships, one for Clarion and the other for Slippery Rock, will be announced later.

The Jackson Memorial Research Laboratory, at Bar Harbor, Maine, has the world's oldest pure-bred strain of mice, covering 220 generations. It was started in 1909. The same number of generations in men would have had to start in 3500 B. C.

SUITS ON FILE IN SMOG DEATHS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sixteen suits filed in Federal District court ask a total of $796,000 damages from the American Steel and Wire Co. in the smog deaths last year in Donora.

Attorney Charles J. Margiotti said other suits will be filed by persons who suffered smog injuries and by relatives of those who died. He estimated the total would run to 131 suits and more than $2,000,000.

The suits blame American Steel and Wire, a subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corp., for releasing chemical fumes into the air resulting in a score of deaths last October.

The company, in an answer to the first 10 suits filed, denied responsibility for the deaths and asserted the fatal smog was the result of a weather-induced collection of various fumes in the area.

chief of the Logistics Division, Headquarters, EUCOM, in Europe for the past two years, has been returned to the states to command the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N. C. He will be remembered as the speaker at a Chamber of Commerce dinner here when he commanded Carlisle Barracks after the war and as one of the guests of honor at Gettysburg's and Adams County's V-J celebration.

Several days ago we wrote that every elevator stop in the 8-story Basin Park hotel, Eureka Springs, Arkansas, is a ground floor stop because the hotel is built on the side of a hill.

The Basin Park hotel was built by William M. Duncan, a native of Gettysburg and brother of Schmucker Duncan, who now resides on East Middle street. The hotel was the dream and objective of William Duncan in the years before it was built. He sought constantly to improve the business and living conditions of his community. He was in the water business for a number of years at Eureka Springs and was the organizer of the leading bank there. Eureka Springs was a health and pleasure resort in the foothills of the Ozark mountains. During the panic years of 1907 the hotel property passed to other management and owners. Mr. Duncan now resides in Los Angeles.

Girl Scout week will be observed from October 30 to November 5.

MURDER CHARGE MAY BE BROUGHT

Montrose, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—A murder charge will be sought today against a 24-year old mother who a coroner's jury said inflicted the head and body wounds that killed her two-year old son.

Mrs. Mildred Brown Lewis of Brackney, 18 miles north of this northeastern Pennsylvania community, will be given a hearing today before Justice of Peace P. Phillip Loneragan. District Attorney Robert Dean said he would ask she be charged with murder.

The coroner's jury brought in its verdict yesterday after Dr. James J. Grace testified an autopsy showed the baby, James Lee Brown, died from a hemorrhage of the brain. James Lee is a son by a former marriage.

Mrs. Lewis, mother of a year old as chief of staff of a Russian artillery division during the war, Samedi Soir said the planes were probably carrying Gieger counters. Silov was quoted last July in the same paper as saying the Russians had exploded an atomic bomb.

The paper said the planes flew over the region at Tashkent in Rus-

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
St. Louis Wins World Series: Detroit, Oct. 10 (P)—Completing the spectacular saga of the Deans with a history making climax, the great Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean pitched St. Louis to the baseball championship of the world Tuesday, with a record shutout triumph, 11 to 0, as the Cardinal clouting crew hammered and routed the pitching staff of the Detroit Tigers in as wild and riotous a finish as any world series ever has witnessed.

The National league champions blasted the last defense of Mickey Cochrane's battered Bengals with a smashing seven-run attack in the third. They bombarded six pitchers all told for a total of seventeen hits, while Dizzy Dean, turning in the fourth victory for his team and family, emerged from the seventh and final game with the most lopsided shutout margin in series history. The previous record was set by the New York Giants when Christy Mathewson blanked the Athletics, 9 to 0, in 1905.

Local Girl Is Married Saturday: Miss Lillian Diehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Diehl, Hanover street, and Charles Keller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller, Selinsgrove, were married on Saturday at Bellefonte, by the Rev. Elmer Ruth. The young couple will reside in Selinsgrove, where the groom is associated in business with his father.

County Girl Is Married: Miss Josephine B. Fidler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Benton Fidler, of Bendersville, and John A. Minnich, son of Attorney and Mrs. John N. Minnich, of Bedford, were married Saturday morning, at 10:15 o'clock, by the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, at the Bethlehem Lutheran church, Bendersville.

New Officers Take Over Legion Auxiliary: The American Legion auxiliary of the Albert J. Lentz post 202 held its first meeting of the fiscal year, Monday evening, in the post room.

Mrs. Allen Dubbs, secretary, presented Mrs. Annie Eckenrode, retiring president, with a past president's badge. Following the meeting cards were played.

New officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Clair Bucher, president; Mrs. Howard Sheffer, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Warman, second vice president; Mrs. Allen Dubbs, secretary; Mrs. William Shover, treasurer; Mrs. James Howe, chaplain; Mrs. Henry Dickert, historian; and Mrs. Gervus Myers, sergeant at arms.

King Alexander, Foreign Minister Barthou Are Slain: Marseilles, France, Oct. 9 (P)—King Alexander, of Yugoslavia, and Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, were assassinated today as the Yugoslav monarch came to France in an effort to improve Yugoslav-French relations.

The king, fresh from a triumph of friendly diplomacy in Bulgaria, and Barthou, were assassinated by two men, one of them known to be a Yugoslav.

Buys Taylor Residence: Joseph Boyer, of Biglerville, purchased the home of the late Fred A. Taylor, Biglerville, Thursday afternoon Mr. Boyer will occupy the new home.

High School Play Oct. 19: Rehearsals are being held daily at Gettysburg high school for the presentation of "Touchdown" a comedy, to be given Friday evening October 19, in the high school auditorium.

The plot centers chiefly around Edward Hudson as "Grant Hayden," Raymond Harbaugh as Grant's younger brother, and John Lawler as "Albert Woolfe." Miss Janet Fisher will appear as "Watsa Pauker" and Miss Jeanette Spangler will portray "Rena Maynard."

Other roles will be taken by John Deardorff, Arthur Snyder, Robert Hanson, Betty Jane Snyder, Marion Sheely, Christine Tawney, Mary E. Wierman, Cedric Tilberg and Walter Kuhn.

THE LEAVES

Outside the room where I write, leaves are falling, gently, noiselessly. The Autumn Sun has given to each its burial robe in magical, colorful array. The Autumn rains have given to them their last silvery wash. Now they are falling for their long sleep upon Mother Earth. In the Springtime I watched with glee the unfolding of these very leaves. Day by day I watched and was filled with wonder at the sight.

Great masses of beauty in every tint and shade, like rare tapestries, hang upon these branches that I look upon—but each day more leaves fall—silently like snowflakes. Each leaf a perfect work of art, perfect in design and color. And every variety its own balanced form and construction.

Life's changes are forever on the move. Soon the last leaf will have found its place with its former companions, and only bare branches will wave in the winds of Winter. There is a note of sadness in the passing of Summer and its next companion, Autumn, but life itself goes on. There will be another Springtime, and other leaves will spring into the sunlight where these of today have been. Nature lets nothing totally die.

How characteristic is every leaf of every tree, shrub, and flower! Each its own design, and with a circulatory system truly remarkable, especially when viewed under the magic of a microscope. I keep a Maple leaf under the glass top of my work desk. It is in its Autumn dress, full of brilliant beauty.

Over in New Jersey is a mail carrier who is greatly beloved by all who meet him from day to day. He is a lover of Nature and a fine photographer, but he is also noted as a poet and lover of children. His name is Bucky McDonnell, and he is the author of several books of poetry. He has the happy habit of always enclosing a pressed leaf in all the letters that he writes, and slips them to both friends and strangers.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Home To Yourself."

OCTOBER AND THE ARTIST

I'm glad I'm not an artist when October tints the trees, To be saddened by the glory all around him that he sees. It must set the heart to aching when the humblest woodland patch Shines with gold and scarlet splendor which his skill can never match.

October must be trying to the artist as he views

So much of perfect beauty which he knows his brush must lose. It must set the mind to brooding to see charm you cannot catch And have pictures all around you which your skill can never match.

The artist is a lover, with a furious desire

The exquisite touch of nature for his canvas to acquire.

Since I know the ache of failure, and what hopeless yearning means,

I am glad I'm not an artist when October paints the scenes.

FACTS ON DIABETES

That an abnormal appetite for sugar and sweets is an effect and not a cause of diabetes is one of the facts outlined in a pamphlet being distributed by the local Prudential Insurance company office. Paul Thomas, manager of the local office, said that copies of the booklet are available to all who may wish them. Diabetes, he said, ranks eighth among causes of death because most diabetics do not discover their illness until too late.

Sunday School Lesson

GOD AND THE NATIONS

By Rev. Howard E. Gold, D.D.

Isaiah 1:21-28; 19:19-25

Memory selection: Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God, and there is none else.—Isaiah 45:22

In theory the government of our United States acknowledges its dependence on Almighty God. Some of our citizens have the motto "In God we trust." Both houses of Congress have chaplains and when the President is inaugurated he takes the oath of office with his hand on the Bible. But how about practice? Do our leaders act as believers in God who recognize their responsibility to Him? Or, as their political machine dictates?

The separation of church and state has led many to accept the complete separation of religion from political life. That is a great mistake. If we preserve only the formalities of religion in the state, we may fall into the same pitfalls as the Kingdom of Judah where Isaiah preached that the highest aim of that nation, or any nation, should be to achieve righteousness under God.

God is present everywhere and active in world affairs. The purpose of this lesson is to understand how God moves in the history of nations to accomplish His purposes; to realize that the peoples of the earth can live in peace if they accept God's will for them.

The International Situation
The world in Isaiah's day consisted of Western Asia with the two great empires, Assyria and Egypt, lying to the northeast and southeast of Palestine respectively. No one can understand the history of Palestine until he has studied its geographical position in relation to

DOUBLE TROUBLE

AP Newsfeatures By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 21

He watched them walk toward the house and then led the three horses inside the corral to unsaddle. Harry Seltzer came in and swung down and stripped the gear from the back of his mount. He didn't look much like an Easterner now. The Seltzers were going to look around for a ranch that winter and Harry was learning the business first hand.

"I had an idea you'd be back," he said quietly.

"Did you?" Joe snarled at him.

"Ever since Mary and I were kids we've been closer together than the average brother and sister. We helped each other with lessons, fought each other's fights, and had few secrets from each other. She's quiet-looking and sensitive, but underneath her exterior there's a lot of fire. She told me what happened up there in the room just before you left. It was a dirty trick, making her fall in love with you, because she's never been in love before. Now she's broken-hearted. I think you're a rotten cad to have done it, and the only reason I don't beat your head off is because of that bad shoulder."

Joe Allison grinned at him and slipped his arm from the sling. He unbuckled his gunbelt and tossed it aside, the cloth sling following it. "Brother, if that's all that's stopping you, then take off that belt. You tried to make love to my girl behind my back, and that makes you a 'cad' too, you cad."

He began to circle cautiously, fists cocked, and then Joe lunged and struck swiftly. The blow missed and a boxer's left hook smashed into his stomach.

A grunt went out of Joe Allison. Harry had backed off. "I was middle weight boxing champion at college, Joe," he said without rancor. "I hate to do this, but you've got it coming."

"I spent a year at college myself," Joe grunted back, "before I whipped the agricultural prof and got dismissed." He didn't state that Jay also had resigned and that their father, who had never liked the idea in the first place, was secretly glad at their mother's chagrin. "But this ain't a college. It's a corral."

He lunged again and his rush carried the Easterner off his feet and down into the dust. And this was the kind of fighting Joe loved. Rough and tumble. He was on his man in a flash and, forgetting the shoulder, slashed out a hard left into his face. A blow caught him alongside the neck and sent a flash of lightning across his eyes. He felt a palm pushed under his chin and two fingers enter his eyes.

Joe broke free and they came apart, panting, eyeing each other, circling warily. They did not notice that Mike Randall and John Seltzer sat their horses at the corral gate, quietly watching.

Randall had a hand on the other man's arm. "No, John, don't stop it. I knew that young wildcat would be back. He could no more keep away from Ellen than the man in the moon. Let 'em fight it out. It'll do both of them good."

When the two older men saw the seriousness of the situation they pulled them apart.

Joe came to his feet, sobbing in great gulps of air, his left arm dangling uselessly at his side. Harry wiped at the blood around his nose with a white handkerchief.

John Seltzer said, "Son, that wasn't a very manly thing to do, fighting a half crippled man."

"Who's half crippled?" Joe belittled at him. "I don't need but one good arm to lick him from here to town."

"All right, all right," snorted Mike Randall. "I'm going to put you on night guard with the Morgans until you get well. Then you go right back to the line camp."

He went inside, slammed the bag on his old bunk, and went into the kitchen. "Hello, Clarence," he greeted the cook. "Got a drink? I need it badly."

"Offhand I'd say that you do," agreed the cook. He brought out a bottle and Joe took a tremendous swig to ease the terrible pain in his shoulder. He cut his shirt away with a pair of borrowed scissors. He pulled away the last of the shirt, stripped to the waist, and the doorway darkened and Ellen and Mary came in.

"You didn't lose any time, did you?" Ellen said bitingly. "Picking a fight with Harry the moment you got back to the ranch. You were wasting your time being jealous. I meant what I said."

"Go to the devil!" he yelled at her. "And your breath smells like a barroom."

The fire was still shooting through his shoulder. He knew it would be stiff and sore for days. She said, "Come on up to the house and let's fix up that shoulder and wash the blood off your face."

"That shoulder is all right, and you can go jump in the tank like your old man. That shoulder feels fine."

"Joe," Mary said quietly. "Joe," He looked up into her leveled gaze. "Come on up to the house," Mary said.

He told himself he was doing it to spite Ellen. Whatever the reason, he fumbled an extra shirt from the warbag, let Mary spread it over his shoulders, and went with them. They took him upstairs to the same room Jay had occupied and brought a pan of warm water. Mary washed the blood from his face and then she and Ellen used a pungent ointment on his skin before strapping his arm to his side once more.

hip and the Remington six-shooter came out, spouting fire. Turk's gun went off once as he fell backward, tearing a slash in a cottonwood log rafter overhead. Miguel sheathed the six-shooter, his cold dark eyes flashing around the room. But this was a coldy. "Lucia, you will come with me."

That night he went on guard down by the horse pasture.

Chapter 22

"He spent the night alternately lounching in the saddle, sitting with his back against a fence post and smoking thoughtfully, and riding his part of the big horse pasture fence. When he rode in at daylight Harry was down at the corral, turning in some of the saddle stock.

They looked at each other silently for a moment; then both burst out laughing. "Here, I'll give you a hand with the saddle," Harry said, going to work.

"Thanks," yawning. "I'm going to roll in and sleep all day."

"Everything quiet?"

Joe Allison nodded. "Did you see Ellen last night?"

It was Harry's turn to nod.

"She still mad at me?"

"Frankly, I don't know, Joe. It's hard to tell what Ellen thinks sometimes. It was that way back East."

Joe said soberly, "I got a hunch she means it this time. I know Ellen pretty well. She still believes I was over in the settlement making love to that pretty half Mexican girl living over there, Lucia. And she should have known that I'd cut off a right arm rather than fool around with other women, except to kiss 'em and make her jealous. So that range is open, Harry. If she don't want me, then I won't bother her any more."

"Will you stay on?"

"I suppose so. For a while, at least."

He did say on, riding the night guard from dark until dawn seven days a week. He never went about the house any more and he had grown quieter.

Then one night it came.

Joe had dismounted and sat with his back against a fence post about half a mile from the ranch house when his horse twisted its head a bit and pointed its ears. He slid to his feet and had his pistol out, standing rigidly, straining his eyes through the night. It might be a coyote or a might be a man named Peg Smith. A voice called softly, "Joe. Hey, Joe!"

"Who is it? And freeze, or I'll start thumping them."

"Don't shoot. It's me, Hank. I got a message from Brad Morden."

Joe swung into leather, recognizing Hank's voice.

"Howdy, Joe," the horse thief greeted him. "How's it going?"

"All right. How's my brother, Jay?"

"Fit as a fiddle. Shoulder is plumb well. Brad lets him out of the cabin once in a while when there ain't no men around. But two of the boys guard him day and night. No doubt about it, the boss an' Jim Swinner-ton means business."

"Swinner-ton pulled stakes yet?"

"He's closed out all his cases. I hear there's goin' to be some kind of a big farewell party for him com'eres. What you got lined up for Brad an' the boys when they git here? That's what Brad tol' me to ask you."

Joe squatted down on his heels. "Tell Brad to send me word."

And Joe Allison went on to explain his plan.

Hank slipped away into the night. Joe went back on patrol, his face grimmer than ever. During the next two weeks he again changed to his former ways. He became quarrelsome, he snarled at everybody in sight except Mary. Where Ellen had fought with him, Mary merely said quietly, "Joe, that will be enough."

He rode Rover Boy evenings, and the feud between the two became something almost personal.

"They make a pretty good pair, those two," Mike Randall remarked to Ellen. "Both wild and untamed and neither will quit. But Blue Star can still run him down and kill him on his feet."

Ellen didn't reply. She watched Joe day after day, and whatever her thoughts were she kept them to herself. Harry had again asked her to marry him, and she had asked him to wait a month before she gave him her reply.

The two families went into town about twice every month, staying overnight and coming back the next day.

It was on one of these trips that Randall met Jim Swinner-ton on the street in front of the Ford hotel. "So you're leaving us, Jim?" the rancher asked.

"I'm afraid so. This country is getting too settled for me. I'm going up into one of the territories. I think there's a better future for a lawyer up there."

"When are you going?"

"In a couple of weeks or so. I've a few more affairs to wind up and then I'll close my office. And some friends have been hinting about giving me a party."

He didn't get any further, for Mike Randall was a man who never believed in doing things by halves. He slapped his thigh a resounding blow. "Why, dog-gone it, Jim! Why didn't I think of it before? You bet you'll have every rancher in the country out to the place for a dance and barbecue."

"Now hold on a minute, Mike," protested the lawyer. "The fall roundup will be starting next week and your own men will be on the range, as will men from all the other outfits. Most of the owners will be with them. It wouldn't be fair to—ha, ha—me. But," he went on seriously, "if you'd care to have me out for an evening with just a few friends, I'd consider it an honor to accept."

"You've just accepted. Name the night."

"I'll be all cleared up by a week from this coming Saturday. I could ride out with my pack horse, stay all night, and set off Sunday."

And thus it was agreed. Five nights later Jay had a visit from Hank. The raid would come on the following Saturday night while the party was in progress. Old Jim was a slick one, all right, all right, Hank had chuckled gleefully.

Joe Allison, still on night guard, received the news with mingled dread and relief. Whatever happened, it would end the expense of Jay being held up there prisoner, of the new Ellen who looked at him with that unfathomable something in her eyes—of being near Mary Seltzer.

Warns Of 3-Mill York Tax Increase

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—A three-mill increase in taxes for schools would be caused if the market value of real estate fixed by the state for York were in effect this year, says a school official.

Dr. Arthur Ferguson, superintendent of York schools, made the comment at a hearing yesterday before the state tax equalization board on objections to the market value certified by the board.

Dr. Ferguson was one of a parade of witnesses called by the York school board to combat a certification of $167,304,000 by the board against the country property assessment of $32,421,000.

STRIKERS INELIGIBLE

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The state Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation today ruled formally that soft coal miners now out on strike are ineligible for jobless benefits. A. J. Caruso, director of the bureau, said the bureau decided that the United Mine Workers of America initiated the shutdown September 19 and that it bars union members and other workers in the same classification from receiving compensation.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

By WILLIAM HOBSON

Chapter 21

He watched them walk toward the house and then led the three horses inside the corral to unsaddle. Harry Seltzer came in and swung down and stripped the gear from the back of his mount. He didn't look much like an Easterner now. The Seltzers were going to look around for a ranch that winter and Harry was learning the business first hand.

"I had an idea you'd be back," he said quietly.

"Did you?" Joe snarled at him.

"Ever since Mary and I were kids we've been closer together than the average brother and sister. We helped each other with lessons, fought each other's fights, and had few secrets from each other. She's quiet-looking and sensitive, but underneath her exterior there's a lot of fire. She told me what happened up there in the room just before you left. It was a dirty trick, making her fall in love with you, because she's never been in love before. Now she's broken-hearted. I think you're a rotten cad to have done it, and the only reason I don't beat your head off is because of that bad shoulder."

Joe Allison grinned at him and slipped his arm from the sling. He unbuckled his gunbelt and tossed it aside, the cloth sling following it.

"Brother, if that's all that's stopping you, then take off that belt. You tried to make love to my girl behind my back, and that makes you a 'cad' too, you cad."

He began to circle cautiously, fists cocked, and then Joe lunged and struck swiftly. The blow missed and a boxer's left hook smashed into his stomach.

A grunt went out of Joe Allison. Harry had backed off. "I was middle weight boxing champion at college, Joe," he said without rancor. "I hate to do this, but you've got it coming."

"I spent a year at college myself," Joe grunted back, "before I whipped the agricultural prof and got dismissed." He didn't state that Jay also had resigned and that their father, who had never liked the idea in the first place, was secretly glad at their mother's chagrin. "But this ain't a college. It's a corral."

He lunged again and his rush carried the Easterner off his feet and down into the dust. And this was the kind of fighting Joe loved. Rough and tumble. He was on his man in a flash and, forgetting the shoulder, slashed out a hard left into his face. A blow caught him alongside the neck and sent a flash of lightning across his eyes. He felt a palm pushed under his chin and two fingers enter his eyes.

Joe broke free and they came apart, panting, eyeing each other, circling warily. They did not notice that Mike Randall and John Seltzer sat their horses at the corral gate, quietly watching.

Randall had a hand on the other man's arm. "No John, don't stop it. I knew that young wildcat would be back. He could no more keep away from Ellen than the man in the moon. Let 'em fight it out. It'll do both of them good."

When the two older men saw the seriousness of the situation they pulled them apart.

Joe came to his feet, sobbing in great gulps of air, his left arm dangling uselessly at his side. Harry wiped at the blood around his nose with a white handkerchief.

John Seltzer said, "Son, that wasn't a very manly thing to do, fighting a half crippled man."

"Who's half crippled?" Joe belated at him. "I don't need but one good arm to lick him from here to town."

"All right, all right," snorted Mike Randall. "I'm going to put you on night guard with the Morgans until you get well. Then you go right back to the line camp."

He went inside, slammed the bar on his old bunk, and went into the kitchen. "Hello, Clarence, he

Chapter 22

He spent the night alternately lounging in the saddle, sitting with his back against a fence post and smoking thoughtfully, and riding his part of the big horse pasture fence. When he rode in at daylight Harry was down at the corral, turning in some of the saddle stock.

They looked at each other silently for a moment, then both burst out laughing. "Here, I'll give you a hand with the saddle," Harry said, going to work.

"Thanks," yawning. "I'm going to roll in and sleep all day."

"Everything quiet?"

Joe Allison nodded. "Did you see Ellen last night?"

It was Harry's turn to nod. "She still mad at me?"

"Frankly, I don't know, Joe. It's hard to tell what Ellen thinks sometimes. It was that way back East."

Joe said soberly, "I got a hunch she means it this time. I know Ellen pretty well. She still believes I was over in the settlement making love to that pretty half Mexican girl living over there, Lucia. And she should have known that I'd cut off a right arm rather than fool around with other women, except to kiss 'em and make her jealous. So that range is open, Harry. If she don't want me, then I won't bother her any more."

"Will you stay on?"

"I suppose so. For a while, at least."

He did stay on, riding the night guard from dark until dawn seven days a week. He never went about the house any more and he had grown quieter.

Then one night it came.

Joe had dismounted and sat with his back against a fence post about half a mile from the ranch house when his horse twisted its head a bit and pointed its ears. He slid to his feet and had his pistol out, standing rigidly, straining his eyes through the night. It might be a coyote or a might be a man named Peg Smith. A voice called softly, "Joe. Hey, Joe!"

"Who is it? And freeze, or I'll start thumping them."

"Don't shoot. It's me, Hank. I got a message from Brad Morden."

Joe swung into leather, recognizing Hank's voice.

"Howdy, Joe," the horse thief greeted him. "How's it going?"

"All right. How's my brother, Jay?"

"Fit as a fiddle. Shoulder is plumb well. Brad lets him out of the cabin once in a while when there ain't no men around. But two of the boys guard him day and night. No doubt about it, the boss an' Jim Swinnerton means business."

"Swinnerton pulled stakes yet?"

"He's closed out all his cases. I hear there's goin' to be some kind of a big farewell party for him some time. What you got lined up for Brad an' the boys when they get here? That's what Brad tol' me to ask you."

Joe squatted down on his heels. "Tell Brad to send me word."

And Joe Allison went on to explain his plan.

Hank slipped away into the night. Joe went back on patrol, his face grimmer than ever. During the next two weeks he again changed to his former ways. He became quarrelsome, he snarled at everybody in sight except Mary. Where Ellen had fought with him, Mary merely said quietly, "Joe, that will be enough."

He rode Rover Boy evenings, and the feud between the two became something almost personal.

"They make a pretty good pair, those two," Mike Randall remarked to Ellen. "Both wild and untamed and neither will quit. But Blue Star can still run him down and kill him on his feet."

Ellen didn't reply. She watched Joe day after day, and whatever her thoughts were she kept them to herself. Harry had again asked her to

Warns Of 3-Mill York Tax Increase

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—A three-mill increase in taxes for schools would be caused if the market value of real estate fixed by the state for York were in effect this year, says a school official.

Dr. Arthur Ferguson, superintendent of York schools, made the comment at a hearing yesterday before the state tax equalization board on objections to the market value certified by the board.

Dr. Ferguson was one of a parade of witnesses called by the York school board to combat a certification of $157,304,000 by the board against the country property assessment of $32,421,000.

STRIKERS INELIGIBLE

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The state Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation today ruled formally that soft coal miners now out on strike are ineligible for jobless benefits. A. J. Caruso, director of the bureau, said the bureau decided that the United Mine Workers of America initiated the shutdown September 19 and that it bars union members and other workers in the same classification from receiving compensation.

Emmitsburg VIGILANT HOSE COMPANY HOLDS MONTHLY MEET

The Vigilant Hose company of Emmitsburg held its monthly meeting in the Firemen's hall Tuesday evening with approximately thirty members present. Herbert Rodgers, president of the Fire company, presided over the meeting, and Guy Baker, Sr., acted as secretary in the absence of Robert Fitez. It was reported that all outstanding bills have been paid.

Two new members, Ambrose Eckenrode and Bernard Bentz, were received into the membership.

Guy Baker was appointed to arrange with the local Baseball Association and the P.T.A. of Saint Joseph's high school to alternate Saturday night bingo games with the three organizations, so there would be no overlapping of nights. After the business meeting, coffee and sandwiches were served to everyone.

A practice game was held this afternoon between the Emmitsburg and Thurmont soccer teams at 2:30 o'clock on the home field.

The Emmitsburg Manufacturing company, formerly owned by Louis Cooper, West Main street, is now under new management, Philip Rosenberg, Baltimore, who was manager for almost two years and who left last Friday, was replaced by Myer Sniderman of Baltimore, on Monday.

Miss Mary Sanders will return to Gettysburg on Monday as a telephone operator at the exchange in Gettysburg.

The Emmitsburg high school boys' soccer team played Brunswick yesterday on the home field and were beaten 1-0.

On Monday, John Martin of Hollywood, Cal., who is a concert pianist, presented several numbers at the Emmitsburg high school, some of which were "Clare de Lune," "Donkey Serenade," "In The Mood," and "Song of Love." Mr. Martin was on tour.

John Hollinger, South Seton avenue, spent Tuesday in Washington, D. C.

Lloyd Fuss, Rhudy Creager and George Damouth spent the day in Frederick recently.

Miss Mary Lou Miller, a student at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, visited over the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Miller, North Seton avenue.

Mrs. Harold Sherman of Baltimore, Md., is visiting at the home

Birthday Party
Terry Fleagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fleagle, West Main street, celebrated his seventh birthday recently by having a few friends to a party. Those present were Edna, Patrick, Billy, and Bobby Zimmerman, Larry Topper, Jackie White, Mike Humerick, Morris Zentz, Wayne Sanders, Terry Elliot, Roy Sanders, Judy Keilholz, Penny Gingell, Margaret Neighbors, Susan Daugherty, and Becky Chrismer, all of Emmitsburg, and Gregory Smith and Kenny Crumbacker of Little-town. The children played games and afterward were served refreshments. The party was centered around Halloween.

Mrs. Floyd Miller, North Seton avenue, is visiting a few days in Washington, D. C., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ash, former residents of Emmitsburg.

George Brown, former manager of the American store in Emmitsburg, spent yesterday in town visiting friends.

PENN STATE FLOWER SHOW

State College, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Flowers will be blooming and more than 40 vegetables will be ripening this week-end at the Pennsylvania State College's annual horticultural show. George Tell, Jr., Shamokin, student manager of the show, said 1,000 potted plants of growing flowers, all timed to bloom this week-end, as well as the carefully-scheduled vegetables, will be used in the show.

'Spook' Parade

Baltimore street to the high school athletic field, the group decided.

Charles L. Lauver, secretary of the local Moose lodge, who was named as treasurer at the committee meeting, was selected to head a committee including C. William Zhea, William Gilbert and Paul Ecker to secure special gifts toward the prizes. Members of the committee said they had been told by a number of persons that they wished to give something toward the prize money.

Rain Date Set

Most of the money for the awards is expected to come from the Fire company, Lions, Rotary, Eagles, Elks, Moose, Soroptimists, VFW and Legion, all of which have donated in previous years and are planning to make donations again this year.

The prizes will be handed out in silver dollars, just to add more fun to the annual masked event, the committee decided. Treasurer Lauver pointed out that "the more money there is for prizes, the more people will receive prizes and thus the annual affair will be bigger, better and more hilarious than ever."

In the event of rain on October 31, the parade will be held Tuesday, November 1.

Mrs. Baker was appointed chairman of the committee to secure a loud speaker to be used at the judges' stand to announce the winners.

While the complete list of prizes will not be completed until a meeting of the committee to be held October 27 at the recreation center, after all contributions for prizes have been secured, the committee decided that in general the prize list will follow last year's. There will be awards for fancy autos, fancy bicycles, largest families, most elaborate, funniest, and most ridiculous costumes, prizes for the funniest animal in the parade, the best decorated horse-drawn vehicle and the best floats.

Columbia, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Discovery of scores of dead and dying wild ducks along the Susquehanna River here was reported today by Deputy Game Warden John Eicholtz.

Eicholtz and other wardens said a very close check of the area is under way in an effort to determine what is causing the mysterious sickness. He said the first indicator from laboratory reports are the death was due to botulism, which is usually caused by eating contaminated or decayed vegetable or animal matter.

Lilienthal And Senators Differ On Policy Covering Atomic Energy Secrecy

AEC HEAD HITS OLD POLICY ON "SAFEGUARDS"

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—David E. Lilienthal's assertion that this country ought to stop "choking" itself with atomic secrecy brought calls on Capitol Hill today for even tighter safeguards around the A-bomb.

Lilienthal, who heads the Atomic Energy Commission, spoke in New York last night. He said the United States should lose no time broadening cooperation with the British and Canadians so that brain power and materials of the three can be thrown behind atomic developments.

"We should stop this senseless business of choking ourselves by some of the extremes of secrecy to which we have been driven," he declared.

Two Little, Says Johnson
But Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) told reporters he thinks there has been too little, instead of too much, secrecy surrounding A-bomb making.

"I regret that Mr. Lilienthal has such a passion for disclosing our atomic energy formulas and secrets," he said.

Similarly, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he believes that it is more important than ever, since the Russian atomic explosion, "that we have, not foolish security, but real security to protect not only what we have but future developments."

Dissenting Report
Hickenlooper is preparing a report dissenting with the Senate-House atomic committee's finding that an investigation into his charges of "incredible mismanagement" against Lilienthal and the Atomic Commission had proved "fruitless."

In his minority statement, Hickenlooper is expected to dwell at length on his contention that the commission has been lax in keeping A-bomb secrets.

The majority report, approved by 10 Democratic members of the committee and opposed by six Republicans, was made public yesterday in just about the form indicated earlier by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), the chairman.

It said the committee's investigations showed no evidence which indicated that Russia got any help in producing the bomb from any security leaks permitted by the commission.

"If any security leaks appreciably assisted the Soviet, and probably they did not, the record implies that all occurred before the commission assumed responsibility," it said.

The army engineers controlled the A-bomb project during the war, before the commission took over in 1947.

REDS TACKLING GIGANTIC JOB IN CHINA DRIVE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The fortunes of the Chinese Nationalists continue to ebb.

The great southern seaport of Canton—until recently emergency capital of the harassed Nationalist government—has been abandoned by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's forces in face of the on-sweeping Red military machine from the north. The gates of this metropolis of a million inhabitants are open to the troops of the newly proclaimed Communist government at Peiping.

The Nationalists once more have moved their government to the ancient city of Chungking, which perches on the towering crags beside the Upper Yangtze like an eagle on its aerie. This is, in a manner of speaking, the last outpost of the retreating regime.

Near "The Hump"
Chungking is the capital which the Nationalists occupied in the dark days of the World War. A few miles further west is the mist shrouded hump which caps the towering mountain barrier between China and Burma—the hump, of evil memories for American and British airmen.

How much longer can the Nationalists hold out in face of such misfortune? Over in Bucharest, Romania, the Cominform Journal called developments in China the "greatest defeat for world reaction and Imperialism." This Journal, which is the mouthpiece of the political organization which links all Communist countries, predicts that the Red victory in China will promote revolutions in India, Burma, Indonesia and other Asiatic countries.

Well, Communist victory in China certainly would have momentous effects not only in Asia but around the globe. But let's not be hasty in reaching a conclusion. What will constitute victory in China?

Victory means not only the smashing of the enemy military strength but the establishment of a government which really can govern. That means a government which has the cooperation of China's five hundred million people, for you can't handle that many folk without their cooperation.

Gigantic Job

On that basis the Communists have a weary way to march before they even get a glimpse of success. What they see now is mirage—fascinating but intangible. Seymour Topping, AP correspondent now in Hong Kong, and wise in the way of the Orient, sums the thing up thus:

"To make China a Communist state on the Russian pattern will require an effort that will make the accomplishments of the Soviet revolution look like small potatoes. The Chinese Communists have undertaken a radical program for China. If their current theory splinters against China's practical problems, their regime will go down, many western observers predict."

This conclusion isn't reached by devious or complicated reasoning. Topping says that possibly 80 per cent of the people in cities like Shanghai and Nanking are opposed to the Communists, mainly for economic reasons. Widespread peasant discontent reflects a similar trend in many rural districts.

The reason? It is that any government in China which attempts to make quick changes in the country's economic structure will be unpopular.

Pennsylvania makes more pig iron than any other state.

PLCB Employees Asking Pay Raise

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Liquor Control board and representatives of its state store employees will meet again November 3 to discuss a request for salary increases. The independent association of PLCB employees presented the request on behalf of 2,500 employees yesterday at two closed sessions with the board.

Chairman Frederick T. Gelder said after the meeting the board would answer the request "within a reasonable time."

The association delegation was headed by President Jack Ivey, of Pittsburgh. They are seeking a change in classification of state store employees that would increase salaries.

AEC HEAD HITS OLD POLICY ON "SAFEGUARDS"

Washington, Oct. 14 (P)—David E. Lilienthal's assertion that this country ought to stop "choking" itself with atomic secrecy brought calls on Capitol Hill today for even tighter safeguards around the A-bomb.

Lilienthal, who heads the Atomic Energy Commission, spoke in New York last night. He said the United States should lose no time broadening cooperation with the British and Canadians so that brain power and materials of the three can be thrown behind atomic developments.

"We should stop this senseless business of choking ourselves by some of the extremes of secrecy to which we have been driven," he declared.

Too Little, Says Johnson

But Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) told reporters he thinks there has been too little, instead of too much, secrecy surrounding A-bomb making.

"I regret that Mr. Lilienthal has such a passion for disclosing our atomic energy formulas and secrets," he said.

Similarly, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he believes that it is more important than ever, since the Russian atomic explosion, "that we have, not foolish security, but real security to protect not only what we have but future developments."

Dissenting Report

Hickenlooper is preparing a report dissenting with the Senate-House atomic committee's finding that an investigation into his charges of "incredible mismanagement" against Lilienthal and the Atomic Commission had proved "fruitless."

In his minority statement, Hickenlooper is expected to dwell at length on his contention that the commission has been lax in keeping A-bomb secrets.

The majority report, approved by 10 Democratic members of the committee and opposed by six Republicans, was made public yesterday in just about the form indicated earlier by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), the chairman.

It said the committee's investigations showed no evidence which indicated that Russia got any help in producing the bomb from any security leaks permitted by the commission.

"If any security leaks appreciably assisted the Soviet, and probably they did not, the record implies that all occurred before the commission assumed responsibility," it said.

The army engineers controlled the A-bomb project during the war, before the commission took over in 1947.

REDS TACKLING GIGANTIC JOB IN CHINA DRIVE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The fortunes of the Chinese Nationalists continue to ebb.

The great southern seaport of Canton—until recently emergency capital of the harassed Nationalist government—has been abandoned by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's forces in face of the on-sweeping Red military machine from the north. The gates of this metropolis of a million inhabitants are open to the troops of the newly proclaimed Communist government at Peiping.

The Nationalists once more have moved their government to the ancient city of Chungking, which perches on the towering crags beside the Upper Yangtze like an eagle on its aerie. This is, in a manner of speaking, the last outpost of the retreating regime.

Near "The Hump"

Chungking is the capital which the Nationalists occupied in the dark days of the World War. A few miles further west is the mist shrouded hump which caps the towering mountain barrier between China and Burma—the hump, of evil memories for American and British airmen.

How much longer can the Nationalists hold out in face of such misfortune? Over in Bucharest, Romania, the Cominform Journal called developments in China the "greatest defeat for world reaction and Imperialism." This Journal, which is the mouthpiece of the political organization which links all Communist countries, predicts that the Red victory in China will promote revolutions in India, Burma, Indonesia and other Asiatic countries.

Well, Communist victory in China certainly would have momentous effects not only in Asia but around the globe. But let's not be hasty in reaching a conclusion. What will constitute victory in China?

Victory means not only the smashing of the enemy military strength but the establishment of a government which really can govern. That means a government which has the cooperation of China's five hundred million people, for you can't handle that many folk without their cooperation.

Gigantic Job

On that basis the Communists have a weary way to march before they even get a glimpse of success. What they see now is mirage—fascinating but intangible. Seymour Topping, AP correspondent now in Hong Kong, and wise in the way of the Orient, sums the thing up thus:

"To make China a Communist state on the Russian pattern will require an effort that will make the accomplishments of the Soviet revolution look like small potatoes. The Chinese Communists have undertaken a radical program for China. If their current theory splinters against China's practical problems, their regime will go down, many western observers predict."

This conclusion isn't reached by devious or complicated reasoning. Topping says that possibly 80 per cent of the people in cities like Shanghai and Nanking are opposed to the Communists, mainly for economic reasons. Widespread peasant discontent reflects a similar trend in many rural districts.

The reason? It is that any government in China which attempts to make quick changes in the country's economic structure will be unpopular.

PLCB Employees Asking Pay Raise

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (P)—The Liquor Control board and representatives of its state store employees will meet again November 3 to discuss a request for salary increases. The independent association of PLCB employees presented the request on behalf of 2,500 employees yesterday at two closed sessions with the board.

Chairman Frederick T. Gelder said after the meeting the board would answer the request "within a reasonable time."

The association delegation was headed by President Jack Ivey, of Pittsburgh. They are seeking a change in classification of state store employees that would increase salaries.

Emmitsburg Vigilant Hose Company Holds Monthly Meet

The Vigilant Hose company of Emmitsburg held its monthly meeting in the firemen's hall Tuesday evening with approximately thirty members present. Herbert Rodgers, president of the fire company, presided over the meeting, and Guy Baker, Sr., acted as secretary in the absence of Robert Fitez. It was reported that all outstanding bills have been paid.

Two new members, Ambrose Eckenrode and Bernard Bentz, were received into the membership. Guy Baker was appointed to arrange with the local Baseball Association and the P.T.A. of Saint Joseph's high school to alternate Saturday night bongo games with the three organizations, so there would be no overlapping of nights. After the business meeting, coffee and sandwiches were served to everyone.

A practice game was held this afternoon between the Emmitsburg and Thurmont soccer teams at 2:30 o'clock on the home field.

The Emmitsburg Manufacturing company, formerly owned by Louis Cooper, West Main street, is now under new management. Philip Rosenberg, Baltimore, who was manager for almost two years and who left last Friday, was replaced by Myer Sniderman of Baltimore, on Monday.

Miss Mary Sanders will return to Gettysburg on Monday as a telephone operator at the exchange in Gettysburg.

The Emmitsburg high school boys' soccer team played Brunswick yesterday on the home field and were beaten 1-0.

On Monday, John Martin of Hollywood, Cal., who is a concert pianist, presented several numbers at the Emmitsburg high school, some of which were "Clare de Lune," "Donker Serenade," "In The Mood," and "Song of Love." Mr. Martin was on tour.

John Hollinger, South Seton avenue, spent Tuesday in Washington, D. C.

Lloyd Fuss, Rhudy Creager and George Damouth spent the day in Frederick recently.

Miss Mary Lou Miller, a student at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, visited over the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Miller, North Seton avenue.

Mrs. Harold Sherman of Baltimore, Md., is visiting at the home

Baltimore street to the high school athletic field, the group decided.

Charles L. Lauver, secretary of the local Moose lodge, who was named as treasurer at the committee meeting, was selected to head a committee including C. William Zhea, William Gilbert and Paul Eker to secure special gifts toward the prizes. Members of the committee said they had been told by a number of persons that they wished to give something toward the prize money.

Rain Date Set

Most of the money for the awards is expected to come from the Fire company, Lions, Rotary, Eagles, Elks, Moose, Soroptimists, VFW and Legion, all of which have donated in previous years and are planning to make donations again this year.

The prizes will be handed out in silver dollars, just to add more fun to the annual masked event, the committee decided. Treasurer Lauver pointed out that "the more money there is for prizes, the more people will receive prizes and thus the annual affair will be bigger, better and more hilarious than ever."

In the event of rain on October 31, the parade will be held Tuesday, November 1.

Mrs. Baker was appointed chairman of the committee to secure a loud speaker to be used at the judges' stand to announce the winners.

While the complete list of prizes will not be completed until a meeting of the committee to be held October 27 at the recreation center, after all contributions for prizes have been secured, the committee decided that in general the prize list will follow last year's. There will be awards for fancy autos, fancy bicycles, largest families, most elaborate, funniest, and most ridiculous costumes, prizes for the funniest animal in the parade, the best decorated horse-drawn vehicle and the best floats.

PRODUCTIVITY — MAINSPRING OF OUR STANDARD OF LIVING

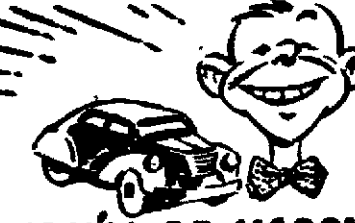

Americans produce so well that it takes only about 8 hours of work to earn $10 worth of goods. In England it takes 19 hours, and in Russia 81 hours to get the same result.

By working together, labor supplying the effort, management the know-how and the tools, and banks the credit, we can increase our productivity even more and spread the extra benefits to all.

SPORTSMEN TO CONSIDER 36 RESOLUTIONS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sportsmen asked today if conservation was taught at Camp Penn, the commonwealth's summer camp for underprivileged boys at Indiantown Gap.

A resolution on the subject was presented to the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at the opening of a two-day meeting closing tomorrow.

Previous action by the federation's southeast division asked that efforts be made "to have this camp conducted as a conservation camp."

Dr. Elmer B. Cottrell, chief of health and physical education in the department of public instruction and a director at Camp Penn, said conservation education played only a small part in the 1949 outing.

"We don't know what's in mind for next year," he said. "We are still closing out accounts for this year's camp."

More than 2,200 boys attended the two-week camp last July. Most of the boy's activities were devoted to athletics and as spectators at volunteered professional shows. There was some evidence of conservation teachings, however, among

WINS BOUT WITH GRIZZLY BEAR

Fairbanks, Alaska, Oct. 14 (AP)—Dan Luddington fought a close-in bout with a grizzly bear and won, but he was hospitalized today with 200 stitches.

Luddington met a she-grizzly with her cub head-on near Summit Lake. "My rifle failed to fire the first bullet," he recounted, "and she got me down. She was pawing, mauling and raking me with her claws and I was trying to get away and at the same time reload my rifle."

"It seemed like my head was in her mouth when I got another shell in the chamber. I managed to get my rifle around while she was dragging me by one leg."

"The bullet hit her in the chest and she dropped."

Luddington painfully inched himself a mile to a road where he was picked up by an Alaska freight lines truck.

He told his story in the Fairbanks hospital. Luddington, owner of a roadhouse near here, had 200

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson's blast against the "Soviet masters" controlling Eastern Germany made it plain today that the U. S. is pulling no cold-war punches because of Russia's atomic explosion.

Speaking out for the first time since President Truman made his September 23 announcement of the Russian A-blast, Acheson referred to the newly-created East German state as an "autocratic Communist regime."

GIVE OFFICIAL SMOG REPORT AFTER INQUIRY

By VERN BAUGLAND
Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Polluted air, pinned motionless by unusual weather, turned a creeping fog into a weapon of death at Donora, Pa., a year ago.

That conclusion was reached by the Public Health Service in a 200-page report released last night. It followed many months of investigation by a team of 25 scientists.

The soot-laden fog, or smog, snuffed out 20 lives and made 6,000 persons ill. It began Oct. 27, 1948. It sickened 15 percent of the dogs in the town—and killed 10 of them, three cats, 250 chickens and some pet rabbits and canaries. It didn't seem to bother cattle, sheep, horses or pigs.

"Need Not Recur"
"Our scientists tell us it was a rare phenomenon," said Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing. "We hope and pray it will never recur—and it need not, if recommendations made by industrial hygiene engineers in this report are carried out."

Ewing added that he will ask Congress for $250,000 to carry on efforts to prevent air pollution.

The report recommended that cities and heavy industries take steps to reduce sharply the amount of smoke and grime their chimneys and exhaust pipes belch into the air.

Weather Bureau To Help
It said the weather bureau should broadcast an alert when an "anticyclone"—like that which hovered over Donora—approaches smoke-blanketed valleys of the eastern states. An anticyclone is a system of moderate winds revolving clockwise about a dead center.

The alert should be followed, it said, by a "warning to take preventive measures" when the anticyclone actually enters the industrial area and conditions are right for fog to form.

Finally, the report said, industries and cities should be required to observe the warning by curtailing smoke-producing activity or, if necessary, closing plants and buildings entirely.

Ewing and Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele told a news conference the Donora survey proved for the first time that air contamination in an industrial community can actually cause serious disabling diseases.

Fairfield—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Waddle spent Sunday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Musselman, of Quarryville.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neely and son, Donald, spent the week-end in Norfolk, Va., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Neely and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Linbaugh, Jr.

Mrs. Robert McClellan entertained the bridge club Monday evening. The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. C. E. Wilson.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Stoneback spent the week-end with friends in New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Martin spent Sunday visiting relatives in Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kepner visited recently with Captain and Mrs. M. W. Arnold, Baltimore.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Spence were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Crone, Sr. and daughter, Ruth Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Crone, Jr., of Hagerstown.

director for the CIO United Steel Workers, told Ewing his union will demand corrective action at Donora and elsewhere.

Burke said at the news conference that the steelworkers will call next week for remedial steps from the American Steel and Wire Co.

"This is something the people of Donora have been fighting for 20 years," he said.

The company operates Donora's steel and wire mill and zinc plant, virtually the town's only industry.

Onesida, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—The New York Central's speeding Lake Shore Limited passenger train was brought to a halt safely Thursday after a broken main drive rod threatened to derail it. Engineer Ray Miller of Albany reported that the rod, about 12 to 15 feet long, became detached from its shaft and whirled around with every turn of the wheels tearing up ties and damaging tracks.

HOUSE GROUP TO HEAR AIR FORCE

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—The House Armed Services committee agreed Thursday to hear the air force next week in reply to the Navy's bitter criticism of its B-36 bomber program. Secretary of Defense Johnson also will testify then.

Chairman Vinson, (D-Ga.) and Secretary Johnson held a long conference this morning. Afterwards, Vinson announced the schedule for the next phase of the committee's inquiry into military policy.

Vinson said that beginning next week the committee will hear Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gen. Omar Bradley, Secretary of Air Symington and Air Force officers.

Then, he added, "Secretary Johnson will give the committee and the country" his views.

Johnson, as civilian boss of all the armed services, is caught squarely in the cross-fire of the angry

GIVE INSURANCE PROGRAM

The Lutheran Mutual Life Insurance company of Waverly, Iowa, conducted an educational program at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary Wednesday evening and Thursday. Chas. F. Bartlett, general agent of the company, assisted by Lloyd T. Goodling, Hanover district agent of Adams county, conducted the discussions for the seminarians on various types of insurance and annuities and how they fit into the Lutheran church pension plan. A motion picture entitled "American Portrait," prepared by the Institute of Life Insurance, was shown.

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—A Congressional report absolving the Atomic Energy commission of "incredible mismanagement" charges set critical Republicans at work today on a dissenting document.

The report clearing Chairman David E. Lillenthal and the other AEC members of the charges was approved by the Senate-House Atomic committee late yesterday. The vote was 9 to 6 on straight party lines—Democrats for, Republicans against.

GIVE OFFICIAL SMOG REPORT AFTER INQUIRY

By VERN HAUGLAND

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Polluted air, pinned motionless by unusual weather, turned a creeping fog into a weapon of death at Donora, Pa., a year ago.

That conclusion was reached by the Public Health Service in a 200-page report released last night. It followed many months of investigation by a team of 25 scientists.

The soot-laden fog, or smog, snuffed out 20 lives and made 6,000 persons ill. It began Oct. 27, 1948. It sickened 15 percent of the dogs in the town—and killed 10 of them, three cats, 250 chickens and some pet rabbits and canaries. It didn't seem to bother cattle, sheep, horses or pigs.

"Need Not Recur"
"Our scientists tell us it was a rare phenomenon," said Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing. "We hope and pray it will never recur—and it need not, if recommendations made by industrial hygiene engineers in this report are carried out."

Ewing added that he will ask Congress for $250,000 to carry on efforts to prevent air pollution.

The report recommended that cities and heavy industries take steps to reduce sharply the amount of smoke and grime their chimneys and exhaust pipes belch into the air.

Weather Bureau To Help
It said the weather bureau should broadcast an alert when an "anticyclone"—like that which hovered over Donora—approaches smoke-blanketed valleys of the eastern states. An anticyclone is a system of moderate winds revolving clockwise about a dead center.

The alert should be followed, it said, by a "warning to take preventive measures" when the anticyclone actually enters the industrial area and conditions are right for fog to form.

Finally, the report said, industries and cities should be required to observe the warning by curtailing smoke-producing activity or, if necessary, closing plants and buildings entirely.

Ewing and Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele told a news conference the Donora survey proved for the first time that air contamination in an industrial community can actually cause serious disabling diseases.

Oneida, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—The New York Central's speeding Lake Shore Limited passenger train was brought to a halt safely Thursday after a broken main drive rod threatened to derail it. Engineer Ray Miller of Albany reported that the rod, about 12 to 15 feet long, became detached from its shaft and whirled around with every turn of the wheels tearing up ties and damaging tracks.

HOUSE GROUP TO HEAR AIR FORCE

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—The House Armed Services committee agreed Thursday to hear the air force next week in reply to the Navy's bitter criticism of its B-36 bomber program. Secretary of Defense Johnson also will testify then.

Chairman Vinson, (D-Ga.) and Secretary Johnson held a long conference this morning. Afterwards, Vinson announced the schedule for the next phase of the committee's inquiry into military policy.

Vinson said that beginning next week the committee will hear Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gen. Omar Bradley, Secretary of Air Symington and Air Force officers.

Then, he added, "Secretary Johnson will give the committee and the country" his views.

SPORTSMEN TO CONSIDER 36 RESOLUTIONS

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sportsmen asked today if conservation was taught at Camp Penn, the commonwealth's summer camp for underprivileged boys at Indianopolis, Pa.

A resolution on the subject was presented to the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at the opening of a two-day meeting closing tomorrow.

Previous action by the federation's southeast division asked that efforts be made "to have this camp conducted as a conservation camp."

Dr. Elmer B. Cottrell, chief of health and physical education in the department of public instruction and a director at Camp Penn, said conservation education played only a small part in the 1949 outing.

"We don't know what's in mind for next year," he said. "We are still closing out accounts for this year's camp."

More than 2,200 boys attended the two-week camp last July. Most of the boys' activities were devoted to athletics and as spectators at volunteered professional shows. There was some evidence of conservation teachings, however, among

The federation will consider 36 resolutions at individual game, fish, pure streams and general panels today. They will be screened and offered for final action by the group tomorrow.

Some of the resolutions asked that:

Gov. James H. Duff make a progress report on coal mine acid pollution in Pennsylvania streams.

The state Game Commission expand its program for propagating rabbits trapped in the state in order to be prepared for a possibility that the western rabbit market may be closed to outside states.

Game refuges be opened to hunting during the one-day antlerless deer season Dec. 10.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service fix the month of November as an open season for hunting of migratory waterfowl in Lake Erie and adjacent Presque Isle bay.

The state Fish Commission take steps to prohibit ice fishing for pickerel for three years in view of a claim that female pickerel is heavy with eggs at the time and have constituted 80 per cent of the catch.

Sunday with Mrs. Saum's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bowman and family, Chambersburg R. 2, and Mr. Saum's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William Saum, at Browns park, Greencastle R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Berringer of Cherry Tree, Indiana county, were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Donaldson.

Mrs. Margaret King, Mrs. Wilmer Wetzel, Mrs. Frank Donaldson and Mrs. S. C. Donaldson attended the fall rally of the W.S.C.S. at the Methodist church in New Cumberland on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Spence spent the week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Busing in Hagerstown. On Sunday, the Busing's accompanied by their guests motored over the Skyline drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stonesifer and family of Pasedena, Md., spent the week-end with relatives here. Joan Stonesifer also visited at the H. B. Saum home, R. D.

Those perfect in attendance at the

WINS BOUT WITH GRIZZLY BEAR

Fairbanks, Alaska, Oct. 14 (AP)—Dan Luddington fought a close-in bout with a grizzly bear and won, but he was hospitalized today with 200 stitches.

Luddington met a she-grizzly with her cub head-on near Summit Lake.

"My rifle failed to fire the first bullet," he recounted, "and she got me down. She was pawing, mauling and raking me with her claws and I was trying to get away and at the same time reload my rifle."

"It seemed like my head was in her mouth when I got another shell in the chamber. I managed to get my rifle around while she was dragging me by one leg."

"The bullet hit her in the chest and she dropped."

Luddington painfully inched himself a mile to a road where he was picked up by an Alaska freight lines truck.

He told his story in the Fairbanks hospital. Luddington, owner of a roadhouse near here, had 200 stitches taken in his face, scalp, arm and leg.

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson's blast against the "Soviet masters" controlling Eastern Germany made it plain today that the U. S. is pulling no cold-war punches because of Russia's atomic explosion.

Speaking out for the first time since President Truman made his September 23 announcement of the Russian A-blast, Acheson referred to the newly-created East German state as an "autocratic Communist regime."

Hirsch Jacobs, one of the greatest trainers in history with more than 2,000 winners to his credit, never rode a horse.

DUFF DECLARES BONUS MUST BE PAID BY TAXES

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP) — Gov. James H. Duff says the proposed $500,000,000 Pennsylvania Veterans bonus "can only be paid by funds raised by taxes."

"No one gets something for nothing in government anymore than he does anywhere else," he said as he made public yesterday a letter to Robert A. Kuhns, Pittsburgh, president of citizen-veterans. Kuhns had asked a number of questions on the bonus issue to be voted on in the November 8 general election.

At the same time, Duff renewed his support of the plan to pay Pennsylvania's 1,300,000 veterans of World War II a bonus of up to $500 each on the basis of $15 for each month of service overseas and $10 a month for duty in the states.

"It seems to me that the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania ought not to be backward or remiss in its appreciation of the great services rendered by our men and women during the war," Duff said in his letter to Kuhns.

The Governor never mentioned a specific tax in his message to the General Assembly although he said it was his desire to have the 1949 Legislature "set up the tax" by which the bonus was to be paid.

In his budget message February he recommended enactment of "necessary legislation so that the bonus can be paid as soon as possible."

Following Duff's recommendation, a $7,500,000 appropriation for interest on the half-billion bond issue was approved for the two years ending May 31, 1951.

Duff told Kuhns in his letter: "Since the General Assembly during the current administration did not desire to follow my recommendation to determine in advance how the money should be raised, it is neither my desire nor prerogative to indicate to the General Assembly after I am out of office how to perform their duty."

Duff's four-year term expires in January, 1951, about the same time the next Legislature will meet. He has the power, however, to call a special session in the meantime on possible bonus taxes or any other lawmaking question.

Kuhns' open letter to the Governor asked what kind of new taxes he favors, an estimate on the interest charges, administration costs of a bonus and how the outlay would affect other state functions.

"Everybody knows that the bonus

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP) — Senate approval of a flexible system for supporting farm prices ended one long argument today but started another—on whether the House will go along.

After weeks of debate, a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republicans Wednesday pushed through on a voice vote the farm support bill sponsored by Senator Anderson (D-N.M.), former Secretary of Agriculture.

is going to cost the taxpayers of Pennsylvania a lot of money—not just some taxpayers but all taxpayers, including veterans," Duff added.

TO OPEN HIGHWAY

Chester, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP) — Gov. James H. Duff will cut a ribbon today, opening the last link in the four-lane industrial highway connecting Philadelphia and Chester. After the ceremony at nearby Eddystone, Pa., Gov. Duff and other dignitaries will attend a pre-Pennsylvania Week dinner at the Masonic Temple here. The industrial highway, named for the large number of manufacturing plants along its route, was started in 1942.

WILL OBSERVE PENNA. WEEK; JUDGE TO TALK

Pennsylvania Week will be observed in Littlestown with an industrial exhibit and program, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 20, 21 and 22, in St. Aloysius Parish hall. Approximately 25 manufacturers and merchants will display their products in the hall. The committee in charge of this event stated that this is the first exhibit of this kind in Littlestown since 1935. They also announced that arrangements are being made by the program committee consisting of Arthur E. Bair and L. Robert Snyder to have all the school children of town attend this exhibit on guided tours.

A special program has been arranged for each night. The event will be formally opened Thursday at 8 p. m., when Judge W. C. Sheely, Gettysburg, will be the speaker. Music will also be furnished on Thursday night by the Littlestown high school band under the direction of Paul Harner. The program for Friday night is pending. On the closing night, the Littlestown Men's chorus will present a program.

Banners Erected
The committee also stated that there will be no admission charge to either the exhibit or entertainment and they extend an invitation to all of the residents of Littlestown and vicinity to attend this important event.

Banners calling attention to Pennsylvania have been placed over the four entrances to Center Square.

The Pennsylvania Week observance committee from the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce consists of Charles Ritter, chairman; William V. Sneeringer, Arthur E. Bair, L. Robert Snyder, Holman L. Sell, Chester S. Byers and John R. Bloom.

The sub-committees are as follows: Hall: William V. Sneeringer, chairman; program: Arthur E. Bair and L. Robert Snyder; solicitation: Holman L. Sell, chairman, and Luke Jacobs; finance: Chester S. Byers, chairman, and Frank Stoness; advertising: John R. Bloom, chairman, and E. Paul Bigelow, and town decorations: Stanley B. Stover, chairman, and Clarence L. Schwartz.

Hilton Hotels Corp., announced the transaction Wednesday.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED FOR LEGION WOMEN

Mrs. Walter Metz, Chambersburg, director of the Adams, Fulton, Franklin and York county council of the Ladies Auxiliary to the American Legion, conducted the installation ceremony when the officers of the Auxiliary to the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321 were installed at the monthly meeting in the post home on East King street Wednesday night.

The officers are: President, Mrs. James Fager; first vice president, Mrs. Ivan Rickrode; second vice president, Mrs. Ralph Conover; secretary, Mrs. Francis J. Will; treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley; historian, Mrs. Noah C. Snyder; chaplain, Mrs. Vernon Study; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Wayne Arnold. Mrs. Metz explained briefly the obligations of the officers and of the unit as a whole.

The president, Mrs. Fager, appointed the committees for the 1949-1950 Auxiliary year as follows: Membership, Mrs. Francis J. Will; rehabilitation, Mrs. Rose Shadle; coupons, Mrs. Joseph P. Long; national security, Mrs. Richard A. Long; Americanism, Mrs. Fred Blocher; pan-Americanism, Miss Edna Blocher; child welfare, Mrs. Robert B. Wareheim; education of war orphans, Mrs. J. Ray Reinhold; poppies, Mrs. J. Donald Leimann and Mrs. George DeHoff; music, Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz; pianist, Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley; assistant, Mrs. Richard A. Long; cheer committee, Mrs. William J. Yingling; Mrs. Clarence J. Krichen, Sr.; and Mrs. Vernon Study; Ways and Means committee, Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley, chairman, Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz, Mrs. Ivan Rickrode, Mrs. Reid Pittenturf, Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Harry O. Harner, Miss Malva Dutler and Mrs. Walter M. Keefe.

Following the opening ceremony of the meeting, a representative from the Blue Cross hospitalization insurance explained this group system to the members of the Auxiliary. The group decided to purchase shorts for the veteran patients at Mt. Alto sanatorium, as their provision for the month. Plans were made for a Halloween party for the members of the auxiliary and their friends, to be held Monday, October 31, at the post home. The committee in charge will be composed of Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Vernon Study, Mrs. Richard A. Long and Mrs. Harry Long.

One application for membership, that of Mrs. John Wareheim, was received. It was announced that there will be a paper demonstration held in connection with the next meeting, on November 9. Hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. Noah C. Snyder, Mrs. Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim and Mrs. Robert B. Wareheim. Each member may take guests to this meeting. Refreshments were served following the meeting by the October hostess committee composed of Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Rose Shadle, Mrs. Florence Harner and Mrs. Walter M. Keefe.

FBI NABS MAN AT EX-WIFE'S DOOR; MADE THREATS

Coatsville, Pa., Oct. 14 (P)—The FBI says a wealthy Californian made a cross-country trip to carry out a threat against his former wife and her present husband, but was arrested at their doorstep.

Duncan McDiarmid, 48, Los Angeles real estate broker, was arrested yesterday by FBI agents who had trailed him from Wilmington, Del., to the Coatsville home of Hubert Horrex, Lukens Steel company official.

Horrex is married to McDiarmid's former wife, Margaret. McDiarmid has been charged with using interstate communication to threaten injury to other persons. He is under $4,000 bail and is to be given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Ethan Allen Doty.

FBI agents gave this background of the case:

About three weeks ago the defendant telephoned Mrs. Horrex from Los Angeles and threatened to kill her and her husband and then himself.

This week he made another call to her brother's home in Pensacola, Fla., then flew from the west coast to Florida. When he learned his former wife was not there he flew north. FBI agents were notified of the threats and trailed McDiarmid here.

After his arrest the broker, who was reported without weapons, wept and told the commissioner: "I don't mean any harm to anybody. I've got two children and two grandchildren and all I want is that these people should stay away from the children."

ONLY one make of car in all the land can give you the sweet 'n' easy luxury of Dynaflo Drive—and that's Buick.

But look how much territory that takes in—how many different-sized budgets can now afford the only drive with neither a clutch pedal nor gears that shift.

You can have Dynaflo as optional equipment on the tidy, sparkling new Buick SPECIAL, with its traffic-handly size, stepped-up roominess, and bold new front-end treatment.

You can have it, again as optional equipment, on the neat and nimble SUPER, with its sleek lines, 110 or 120 horsepower Fireball power plant, and triple Ventiports.

And of course Dynaflo is standard equipment on that best buy among fine cars, the magnificent ROADMASTER. There it combines, with matchless ride, the stirring lift of 150 Fireball horsepower and truly regal size and bearing.

So look at the SPECIAL, the SUPER and ROADMASTER, three Buicks that match almost any price range you have in mind—and remember that all of them offer the added enjoyment of Dynaflo Drive.

COURT RULES RAJK MUST DIE

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 14 (P)—Hungary's court of appeal today ruled that Laszlo Rajk, former Communist foreign minister, and two fellow plotters must die for treason. They confessed conspiring to make their country a satellite of Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia.

The court confirmed the three death sentences and also upheld prison terms decreed for three others who admitted conspiring with Rajk to overthrow Hungary's Moscow-backed regime. Two were given life imprisonment, the other a nine-year jail term.

The sentences were imposed September 24 by a Budapest People's court after a week's trial during which the defendants confessed at length to the government's charges. Scheduled to die with Rajk are Dr. Tibor Szeenyi, 46, a former member of Parliament who directed the Hungarian Communist party's cadre system supervising the rank-and-file members, and his deputy, Andras Szalla, 32.

The Best Farm Plan

Every business must plan ahead—and deal with economic factors—such as production, supply, demand, costs, prices, trends and profits.

Farming is now a highly specialized business in which profit depends much on the soundness of the program for the future. Others can offer helpful suggestions, but the best farm plan is the personal plan which each individual makes for himself to fit his own situation.

To farmers and others who are planning for the future, we shall welcome any opportunity to be helpful. Confer with our officers.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED FOR LEGION WOMEN

Mrs. Walter Metz, Chambersburg, director of the Adams, Fulton, Franklin and York county council of the Ladies Auxiliary to the American Legion, conducted the installation ceremony when the officers of the Auxiliary to the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321 were installed at the monthly meeting in the post home on East King street Wednesday night.

The officers are: President, Mrs. James Fager; first vice president, Mrs. Ivan Rickrode; second vice president, Mrs. Ralph Conover; secretary, Mrs. Francis J. Will; treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley; historian, Mrs. Noah C. Snyder; chaplain, Mrs. Vernon Study; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Wayne Arnold. Mrs. Metz explained briefly the obligations of the officers and of the unit as a whole.

The president, Mrs. Fager, appointed the committees for the 1949-1950 Auxiliary year as follows: Membership, Mrs. Francis J. Will; rehabilitation, Mrs. Rose Shadle; coupons, Mrs. Joseph P. Long; national security, Mrs. Richard A. Long; Americanism, Mrs. Fred Blocher; pan-Americanism, Miss Edna Blocher; child welfare, Mrs. Robert B. Wareheim; education of war orphans, Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar; poppies, Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon and Mrs. George DeHoff; music, Mrs. Clinton O. Senti; pianist, Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley; assistant, Mrs. Richard A. Long; cheer committee, Mrs. William J. Yingling, Mrs. Clarence J. Krichten, Sr., and Mrs. Vernon Study; Ways and Means committee, Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley, chairman, Mrs. Ernest R. Senti, Mrs. Ivan Rickrode, Mrs. Reid Pittenturf, Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Harry O. Harner, Miss Malva Dutera and Mrs. Walter M. Keefer.

Following the opening ceremony of the meeting, a representative from the Blue Cross hospitalization insurance explained this group system to the members of the Auxiliary. The group decided to purchase shorts for the veteran patients at Mt. Alto sanatorium, as their provision for the month. Plans were made for a Halloween party for the members of the auxiliary and their friends, to be held Monday, October 31, at the post home. The committee in charge will be composed of Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Vernon Study, Mrs. Richard A. Long and Mrs. Harry Long.

One application for membership, that of Mrs. John Wareheim, was received. It was announced that there will be a paper demonstration held in connection with the next meeting, on November 9. Hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. Noah C. Snyder, Mrs. Clarence J. Krichten, Sr., Mrs. Maurice C. Wareheim and Mrs. Robert B. Wareheim. Each member may take guests to this meeting. Refreshments were served following the meeting by the October hostess committee composed of Mrs. Wayne Arnold, Mrs. Rose Shadle, Mrs. Florence Harner and Mrs. Walter M. Keefer.

FBI NABS MAN AT EX-WIFE'S DOOR; MADE THREATS

Coatsville, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—The FBI says a wealthy Californian made a cross-country trip to carry out a threat against his former wife and her present husband, but was arrested at their doorstep.

Duncan McDiarmid, 48, Los Angeles real estate broker, was arrested yesterday by FBI agents who had trailed him from Wilmington, Del., to the Coatsville home of Hubert Horrex, Lukens Steel company official.

Horrex is married to McDiarmid's former wife, Margaret. McDiarmid has been charged with using interstate communication to threaten injury to other persons. He is under $4,000 bail and is to be given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Ethan Allen Doty.

FBI agents gave this background of the case:

About three weeks ago the defendant telephoned Mrs. Horrex from Los Angeles and threatened to kill her and her husband and then himself.

This week he made another call to her brother's home in Pensacola, Fla., then flew from the west coast to Florida. When he learned his former wife was not there he flew north. FBI agents were notified of the threats and trailed McDiarmid here.

After his arrest the broker, who was reported without weapons, wept and told the commissioner: "I don't mean any harm to anybody. I've got two children and two grandchildren and all I want is that these people should stay away from the children."

FLOOD CONTROL FUNDS

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania will receive $13,870,000 for six flood control projects out of the $664,178,190 Army civil functions appropriation bill signed by President Truman. The bill, allotting $634,920,090 to more than 300 projects, was signed yesterday by the President after being passed last week by the House and Senate. It is a record one-year appropriation.

COURT RULES RAJK MUST DIE

Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 14 (AP)—Hungary's court of appeal today ruled that Laszlo Rajk, former Communist foreign minister, and two fellow plotters must die for treason. They confessed conspiring to make their country a satellite of Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia.

The court confirmed the three death sentences and also upheld prison terms decreed for three others who admitted conspiring with Rajk to overthrow Hungary's Moscow-backed regime. Two were given life imprisonment, the other a nine-year jail term.

The sentences were imposed September 24 by a Budapest people's court after a week's trial during which the defendants confessed at length to the government's charges. Scheduled to die with Rajk are Dr. Tibor Szoenyi, 46, a former member of Parliament who directed the Hungarian Communist party's cadre system supervising the rank-and-file members, and his deputy, Andras, Szalla, 32.

Come Look at All Three with Dynaflow Drive

ONLY one make of car in all the land can give you the sweet 'n' easy luxury of Dynaflow Drive—and that's Buick.

But look how much territory that takes in—how many different-sized budgets can now afford the only drive with neither a clutch pedal nor gears that shift.

You can have Dynaflow as optional equipment on the tidy, sparkling new Buick SPECIAL, with its traffic-handy size, stepped-up roominess, and bold new front-end treatment.

You can have it, again as optional equipment, on the neat and nimble SUPER, with its sleek lines, 110 or 120 horsepower Fireball power plant, and triple Ventiports.

And of course Dynaflow is standard equipment on that best buy among fine cars, the magnificent ROADMASTER. There it combines, with matchless ride, the stirring lift of 150 Fireball horsepower and truly regal size and bearing.

So look at the SPECIAL, the SUPER and ROADMASTER, three Buicks that match almost any price range you have in mind—and remember that all of them offer the added enjoyment of Dynaflow Drive.

DUFF DECLARES BONUS MUST BE PAID BY TAXES

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP) — Gov. James H. Duff says the proposed $500,000,000 Pennsylvania Veterans bonus "can only be paid by funds raised by taxes."

"No one gets something for nothing in government anymore than he does anywhere else," he said as he made public yesterday a letter to Robert A. Kuhns, Harrisburg, president of citizen-veterans. Kuhns had asked a number of questions on the bonus issue to be voted on in the November 8 general election.

At the same time, Duff renewed his support of the plan to pay Pennsylvania's 1,300,000 veterans of World War II a bonus of up to $500 each on the basis of $15 for each month of service overseas and $10 a month for duty in the states.

"It seems to me that the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania ought not to be backward or remiss in its appreciation of the great services rendered by our men and women during the war," Duff said in his letter to Kuhns.

The Governor never mentioned a specific tax in his message to the General Assembly although he said it was his desire to have the 1949 Legislature "set up the tax" by which the bonus was to be paid.

In his budget message February he recommended enactment of "necessary legislation so that the bonus can be paid as soon as possible."

Following Duff's recommendation, a $7,500,000 appropriation for interest on the half-billion bond issue was approved for the two years ending May 31, 1951.

Duff told Kuhns in his letter: "Since the General Assembly during the current administration did not desire to follow my recommendation to determine in advance how the money should be raised, it is neither my desire nor prerogative to indicate to the General Assembly after I am out of office how to perform their duty."

Duff's four-year term expires in January, 1951, about the same time the next Legislature will meet. He has the power, however, to call a special session in the meantime on possible bonus taxes or any other lawmaking question.

Kuhns' open letter to the Governor asked what kind of new taxes he favors, an estimate on the interest charges, administration costs of a bonus and how the outlay would affect other state functions.

"Everybody knows that the bonus

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Senate approval of a flexible system for supporting farm prices ended one long argument today but started another—on whether the House will go along.

After weeks of debate, a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republicans Wednesday pushed through on a voice vote the farm support bill sponsored by Senator Anderson (D-N.M.), former Secretary of Agriculture.

is going to cost the taxpayers of Pennsylvania a lot of money—not just some taxpayers but all taxpayers, including veterans," Duff added

WILL OBSERVE PENNA. WEEK; JUDGE TO TALK

Pennsylvania Week will be observed in Littlestown with an industrial exhibit and program, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 20, 21 and 22, in St. Aloysius Parish hall. Approximately 25 manufacturers and merchants will display their products in the hall. The committee in charge of this event stated that this is the first exhibit of this kind in Littlestown since 1935. They also announced that arrangements are being made by the program committee consisting of Arthur E. Bair and L. Robert Snyder to have all the school children of town attend this exhibit on guided tours.

A special program has been arranged for each night. The event will be formally opened Thursday at 8 p. m. when Judge W. C. Sheely, Gettysburg, will be the speaker. Music will also be furnished on Thursday night by the Littlestown high school band under the direction of Paul Harner. The program for Friday night is pending. On the closing night, the Littlestown Men's chorus will present a program.

Banners erected. The committee also stated that there will be no admission charge to either the exhibit or entertainment and they extend an invitation to all of the residents of Littlestown and vicinity to attend this important event.

Banners calling attention to Pennsylvania have been placed over the four entrances to Center Square. The Pennsylvania Week observance committee from the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce consists of Charles Ritter, chairman; William V. Sneeringer, Arthur E. Bair, L. Robert Snyder, Holman L. Sell, Chester S. Byers and John R. Bloom.

The sub-committees are as follows: Hall: William V. Sneeringer, chairman; program: Arthur E. Bair and L. Robert Snyder; solicitation: Holman L. Sell, chairman, and Luke Jacobs; finance: Chester S. Byers, chairman, and Frank Stonesifer; advertising: John R. Bloom, chairman, and E. Paul Bigelow, and town decorations: Stanley B. Stover, chairman, and Clarence L. Schwartz.

Hilton Hotels Corp., announced the transaction Wednesday.

You can create an immediate estate of $1,500 for your child by paying one month's premium on a life insurance policy. Many persons who live to be 60 or 70 do not leave an estate this large. Life insurance is about the only way to create an estate immediately. A few cents a day will do it.

No medical examination necessary on monthly policies up to Age 35. Weekly policies available without medical examination up to Age 60.
